EASTERN PROVINCES AND FISHING CONCESSIONS

"Tis said 'It is a long lane that has no turning,' and the New England fishermen must be thinking this when they read that Boards of Trade and other civic bodies of Eastern Canada are petitioning their government to remove the many onerous restrictions which hedge about an American fishing vessel when it approaches or enters a Canadian Atlantic port, and the precedent that these bodies are quoting for this action are the exceptional favors recently accorded to our Pacific Coast halibut fishermen by the Dominion authorities. Visions of the reputed thousands of dollars which it is expected our vessels will leave behind them in the British Columbia towns have evidently been vouchsafed to the Easterners and they wish to get a little of the same themselves.

The Halifax, Nova Scotia, Board of Trade called the attention of the Canadian Minister of Marine to the fact that in British Columbia fish can be landed in all American bottoms for the purpose of forwarding same to the United States, also to sell fish in bond to such local dealers as may be licensed therefor, who may export it, while in Nova Scotia, American sailing vessels may land fish to be forwarded by rail to the United States, but when brought there in auxiliary power vessels or steamers this privilege does not hold good. Those vessels authorized to land and ship their fish are not permitted to sell it in bond to local dealers, who might export it.

The board thinks it no more than reasonable and equitable that Nova Scotia and the other Atlantic provinces should have the same privileges in this regard as British Columbia.

To this plea the Minister of Marine replied that in the modus vivendi between the two countries Canada has been waiving certain of the rights she claimed under the treaty of 1818, and it was a question what effect further modifications and continuation of the modus vivendi would have in effectually preventing her from resuming the treaty. He further pointed out that the permission given to the Pacific Coast was temporary only, and that temporary advantages ought to be weighed at their value against fundamental rights.

The Canadian protestants seem to have the better of the argument and are putting up a vigorous fight, having asked all the fishing centres on that coast to join in with them in protesting against the discrimination in favor of British Columbia, and seem to be meeting with much success, the Yarmouth Board of Trade having not only endorsed the suggestion of the Halifax board, but also gone it one better, by suggesting that the $1.50 per ton for licenses required from American vessels for the privilege of buying bait, etc., be abolished.

It may eventually result that the courting by the Canadian authorities of the American fishermen on the Pacific may lead to our Atlantic brethren, who have been fighting for many years for such privileges as have been almost forced upon our fishermen, may get them without lifting a finger as the result of the fight being made by the Eastern Canadians.—Pacific Fisherman.
