"CINDERELLA" AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

"Cinderella," with Mary Pickford in the title role, is shown in four magnificent reels at The Westholme. The staging of the piece is splendid, and the quick transformations are much more clearly depicted on the screen than is possible on the stage. Mary Pickford makes the daintiest Cinderella imaginable, while the parts of the ugly sisters are in capable hands.

"Bunny's Swell Affair" is aptly named. In this most laughable comedy, Bunny retrims a lady's hat with sponges, and a heavy shower brings disastrous results.

The Gazette includes some very pretty views of the little town of Gatun, in the Panama, as well as parts of the canal, and also shows movie operators in perilous positions on the top of an unfinished skyscraper. The theatre was packed last night, and the large audience showed hearty appreciation of the splendid program.

THANKS EXTENDED TO CHILDREN OF THE EMPIRE

The following letter has been received from Mrs. Plumtree, corresponding secretary of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Toronto:

Toronto, June 4, 1915.

Secretary, I. O. D. E.,

Prince Rupert, B. C.:

Dear Madam—Please express to the Children of the Empire the thanks of our society for the bandages and handkerchiefs forwarded by them for the use of our Canadian soldiers in the hospitals.

We are always particularly glad to receive such gifts from children, especially if they are carefully made according to instructions.

Please tell the children that at the Battle of Ypres, where all the Canadians were fighting, word came down from the front dressing hospitals to say that they were running short of bandages, and asking the Red Cross to send some more from their warehouse at Boulogne, in France, and within four hours all the bandages they needed were sent up to them, and saved the lives of some of the men who might have bled to death without them; so you see it is worth while helping, is it not?

TEA ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

Tea suddenly becomes one of the items of war material, and the price has gone up in the primary market about 30 per cent, with prospects of a real shortage and a still further advance in price. When warring armies start buying tea for rations on the field, with its attendant great waste, and the entire Russian people are suddenly deprived of vodka and turned to tea, then it can scarcely be surprising that such a fluctuation should occur in the price of tea.

CIVIL CASES BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT

On the conclusion of the Criminal Assizes here, Mr. Justice Gregory will proceed with the civil list that has been set down for hearing at this sitting of the Supreme Court. The list is not a long one. It consists of the following:

Williams & Manson vs. Beaton & Kuhes; Williams & Manson for the plaintiffs; J. A. Russell for the defendants.

George Young vs. Corley & Burgess; Williams & Manson for plaintiff; Patmore & Fulton for the defendants.

Samuel Harrison & Co., et al. vs. Port Edward Townsite Company; W. E. Fisher for the plaintiff; Patmore & Fulton for the defendants.

Isenberg vs. Isenberg; W. E. Fisher for the plaintiff.

HAZELTON WON BOTH BASEBALL GAMES

The Hazelton boys beat the local baseball team in both games yesterday. In the afternoon game the score was 11 to 8 and in the evening 2 to 0.

The local youngsters did well, but showed nervousness and a lack of experience. The Hazelton team is a real good one, but, with a little more practice, the Prince Rupert boys will probably be able to reverse the result before the season is over.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The following are the draws made in the City Cup Competition: First Round—Regiment vs. Sons of England; June 21.

Second Round—Merchants vs. Drydock; June 23; and Regiment or Sons of England vs. Callies on June 25.

All games are scheduled to commence at 7:30 p. m. prompt.

The present holders of the trophy are the Merchants and their game with the Drydock in the second round should be a good one.

On account of the Cup-ties, all league games for next week are postponed indefinitely.

The final game in the City Cup Competition will take place at Aeropolis Hill on the evening of July 4, at 6:30.

The Callies' team to meet the Merchants tomorrow night will take the field as follows: R. Dowther; S. D. Macdonald and A. L. Murray; D. Thomson, W. Murray and G. W. Abbott; H. M. Foote, W. C. B. Smith, W. E. Willicroft, G. MacIntosh and J. Hunter. Reserves, R. Davie and J. Kinnear.

BIG JACK MUNRO SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Ottawa, June 17—John A. Munroe, better known as Big Jack Munroe, former prizefighter, has been seriously wounded in the European war, according to last night's list of casualties among the Canadian contingent issued by the Militia Department here. Munroe enlisted as a member of Princess Pat's Regiment at North Bay, Ont., where he had been in the mining business.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Germany had one great advantage at the outbreak of the war, in that she was ready. As a matter of fact, she had been awaiting the opportune moment for many years. Britain, France and Russia were all unprepared for land fighting on a huge scale, and seem only now to be getting really busy. In Britain, in particular, the great majority of the people never seem to have realized the gravity of the situation. The attitude seems to have been, that, "We pay men to do our fighting for us, and they will see that our comfort is not disturbed."

The raid on Scarborough, and the frequent air attacks did a good deal to dissipate this complacent view, but the Cabinet shuffle by Premier Asquith seems to have been more effective even than the raids. David Lloyd George, as Minister of Munitions, as it were, has done wonders in showing the people at large that fighting does not consist merely of sending men to the trenches. The fiery little Welshman has been able to impress upon the people the fact, that every tap of a hammer in a shipyard, and every turn to a gun in a factory, is something done for the Allies against the enemy of liberty. He has been equally successful in his warning to workmen that every shirker is helping Germany, and that every needless holiday taken is so much more time given to the enemy.

The one thing that we cannot help but admire in the Germans is their wonderful ability to organize. In spite of some reports, the Germans are far from starving, yet every meal is measured, the proportion of wheat to every loaf is carefully figured out. Down to the last button and the last shoelace, they know exactly how their supplies are going to pan out. In Britain, such a point of perfection in organization will never be attained, as it is directly counter to the national temperament. The Germans are naturally painstaking and careful of detail, and everything they do is planned and carried out with machine-like accuracy. From childhood, they are trained to do everything by rule. The German schoolboy does not play games, but works methodically at them, and the boy is "father of the man."

The difference between the British, or Canadian, and the German schoolboy is just the difference between the British, or Canadian, and German soldier. One great reason for the brilliant success of the Canadians at Langemarck, and St. Julien, was their magnificent disregard of the rules of war, as understood by the enemy. From the German standpoint, the Canadians were, on these occasions, in a hopeless position, and by all the rules of the game beaten, yet a mere handful of them charged a much superior force and chased them through the woods. The Germans must be beginning to realize that our boys are never in a hopeless position, and don't know anything about being beaten.
