CO-OPERATION.

When the suggestion was made that a citizens' committee be appointed to enquire into the city's finances and City Hall Staff, some humorist suggested that the Daughters of the Empire should be called into consultation. Judging by the results obtained by the by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the hospital on Monday night, and the recent efforts of the ladies of the city in aid of the Red Cross, and patriotic funds generally, there is no denying the fact that the ladies of Prince Rupert have shown wonderful organizing ability. The secret of their success is co-operation.

It was an inspiring sight to see, on Monday night, men, of all shades of political opinion, and of various professions and lines of business, come out of their shells and appear before the public as men, imbued with one ambition—the amusement of the public. The aim may not have been a very high one, but the purpose behind it was good.

It would produce wonderful results, if the same solidarity of purpose could be brought to bear on the affairs of the city; of the province, and of the country. If the same hearty, co-operative spirit could get to work for the general welfare of the city, and of the province, the word "crisis" would soon be forgotten.

OFFICIALDOM.

The Journal is to be congratulated on its editorial of yesterday, dealing with the delay, on the part of the postal department at Ottawa, in arranging for a mail service to meet the altered boat and train schedule. The conclusion of the article follows so closely the lines of recent Liberal criticism that we quote it: "Evidently officialdom will have to be respected. Some day there will be a general rising on the part of the long-suffering citizens in this country, which will result in the throwing off of the serfdom, which they have had to pay to officials who are becoming more plentiful than the sands of the sea, and whose efficiency becomes less with the multiplicity in numbers."

The multiplicity of officials has been one of the expensive hobbies of the Borden government, and it is refreshing indeed to find the Conservative organ comparing them to the sands of the sea. Some day soon, we hope, a strong flood tide of Liberalism will do some sand shifting, which will save the country enough money per annum to buy a submarine or two every year, even at McBride prices.

Delay in transacting the country's business is one of the comparatively small evils resulting from the job-creating system of the Borden government. One of the worst features is, that it is simply a despicable scheme of buying party support with public funds; in other words, misappropriation of the people's money, and in plain unvarnished English—thieving.

In Britain, civil service appointments are made by calling upon all applicants to sit in competitive examinations at various centres. The papers are sent to judges in London, who are ignorant of even the names of the competitors. The moment a man becomes a civil servant, he ceases to have any politics, and is deprived of all voting power in parliamentary elections. The system has certain disadvantages, but it most effectively does away with the political job-hunter, and that is one of the greatest evils in Canada today.

STILL AT IT.

When W. F. Garland, M. P., and A. De Witt Foster, M. P., were "read out of the party" by Sir Robert Borden a couple of score of admiring newspapers could scarcely find words to proclaim the exalted ideals of a Premier who refused to disgrace his government by recognizing two such rascals in its list of supporters. Now Mr. Garland rises to remark that he is still distributing jobs and buying bandages or whatever else may be required in the constituency of Carleton under favor of the government in the same old way. It only remains for some of the halo-painting journalists to inform a not disinterested public whether A. De Witt Foster, ex-M. P., is still buying "horses" for the Militia Department in the same old way.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Coughing scatters germs—Stop it

Coughing increases the irritation of the already inflamed mucous membranes and is moreover apt to carry disease to others.

Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil promptly stops coughing, and soon, thanks to its tonic properties, effects a permanent cure.

The wonderful popularity of Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil is especially due to its great value as a permanent lung and bronchial healer.

CROPS IN S. ALBERTA MUST BE MAGNIFICENT

Edmonton, June 30.—Premier Sifton returned Saturday from a trip through the southern part of Alberta. He said that the crops in that district are magnificent.

"I only heard of two complaints," he said. "One was by a rancher, who said the grass was so high that he was continually losing his calves; and the other by a farmer, who lamented that the grain was so high that it would cost too much to harvest it."
