First Act Is Now Over.

The nominations for men to represent the two main political parties of the United States in the presidential elections which take place next November being concluded, political campaigning will now commence in the true sense of the word in all sections of the great republic. These nominations are an important event in connection with United States elections and often command as much interest and excitement as the elections themselves. For the time being the parties lost sight of politics and concentrate on the selection of a leader, but once this leader has been selected all rally once more to the political banner.

Stage Set For Elections.

The recent primaries have been contested probably more keenly than has been the case for some time. Faced with international problems and questions of more than usual moment—affairs that affect the moulding of the nation's destiny more than any others ever experienced—the parties have necessarily divided themselves into factions and in both the case of the Republicans and Democrats, and more so in the latter, it took more time and much diplomacy to heal these differences. In fact, the successful candidates are in a questionable position on many points and have, in many cases, pursued the policy of "sitting on the fence." This quadrennial selection in the United States will be attended with more than usual interest the world over.

Must Have Honest Policies.

Whether a Republican or a Democrat goes to the White House in March, 1921, is a question of American domestic politics with which foreigners have no active concern. We shall welcome either as the representative of the American people, and we shall be prepared impartially to discuss with either in the friendliest manner the many questions which we have in common. It is stated that we must be ready for readjustment in our relations with the United States and that the process will not be easy. That depends in a great measure upon ourselves. If we have a straight, clear, and honest policy in world affairs, firmly based upon those plain principles which are common to Americans and ourselves, we may have tiresome disputes to arrange but we cannot doubt the result.

May Look for Decreasing Prices.

There is now a more hopeful feeling about prices and the high cost of living. The whole tendency of the chief markets is towards a fall in prices although wheat and sugar are both steady if not rising. There has been a slackening off in business and buyers in many trades are developing cautiousness with a disposition to hold back. The banks' restrictions on credit are making speculators anxious. These influences have a depressing effect on the markets, and benefit from which the public may soon reap in lower prices. The movement in the United States recently has been very sweeping and will reflect in Canada. On the whole economic conditions encourage the belief that prices have reached the peak and should slide soon.

To Make a Tart Salad Jelly

Jiffy-Jelly is for salads as well as desserts. Get the lime-fruit flavor and it will make you a tart, green salad jelly. Mint flavor makes a mint jelly.

The fruit flavors in Jiffy-Jelly are fruit-juice essences in vials—a bottle in each package. They are real fruit, and the flavor is abundant. No artificial flavors—no saccharine.

Try loganberry or pineapple flavor for a dessert, and learn what delicious dainties Jiffy-Jelly brings to your table. A package will serve six people.

Jiffy-Jelly with its natural fruit flavor costs much less than jam or marmalade.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

STEWART WINS AGAIN IN NORTHERN LEAGUE

Alice Arm can Handle Smelter Boys, But Gold Miners Prove too Much.

The Alice Arm baseball club defeated the Anyox boys in a well contested 2-0 game at the Smelter town on Dominion Day but on visiting Stewart for July 4 were beaten by the gold miners in a double header, the score in the first contest being 10-2 and the second, 3-1. A big crowd made the trip from Alice Arm to Stewart on Kergin & Fowler's new boat. Besides the Alice Arm baseball club the Alice Arm male quartette was also along. This group of singers has gained quite a reputation around the northern mining towns and has taken part in concerts at Anyox and Stewart as well as at their own home town.

The revised standing of the Northern League teams shows Stewart still maintaining the first place in the league without a loss while Anyox sits in the cellar. Following is the standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Stewart	5	0	1000
Alice Arm	2	4	333
Anyox	1	4	200

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

THAT now the cemetery caretaker is given the privilege of shooting dogs.

THAT several citizens residing in one of the city's leading residential sections want privileges along those lines.

THAT nocturnal howlings are not conducive to that repose that the tired business man and his family require after 2 a.m.

THAT these citizens had better wait for authority before they start anything in the meantime, remember that there are many ways of killing a dog.

THAT patience isn't one of the ways, just the same.

THAT the fast livers do not always live the most nor do they live the longest.

THAT there are lots of fast livers in Prince Rupert and also lots of long livers.

THAT they don't have the same addresses at least not all the time.

THAT some people think that a conscience needs exercise to keep it healthy.

THAT if a person lives right and lives honestly he will find that his conscience will take care of itself.

THAT the conscience should be something like the appendix, it should be unnecessary.

THAT "Ah sly dog!" is a compliment to many men, but just try calling a man a dog in any other way and see what will happen.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

July 7, 1910.

The government has approved the application of the Grand Trunk Pacific for a subsidy to a drydock of the second class to be constructed in Prince Rupert. It will cost $1,200,000 and will be large enough to accommodate vessels of 20,000 tons burden.

Ald. McIntyre is getting tired of the delay in regard to the mail service from the south. He asked that Mayor Stork get in communication with the postmaster general. He thought that the City of Seattle would be willing to carry mail.

G. H. Jackie, president of the Portland Canal Mining Co., was a passenger for the south on the Prince Rupert from Stewart to Vancouver.

M. L. Unmouth has taken charge of the Queen's Hotel, formerly known as the Archer Hotel.

Robt. Jennings, road inspector on Queen Charlotte Islands for some time past, has been appointed general superintendent for the whole district for the time being.

D. S. Cameron returned from up the line last night.

MEN WANTED To Handle Lumber

The undersigned Mill Operators on Massett Inlet, having found it impossible to ship lumber for the past month, owing to the failure of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Longshoremen's Union to agree on the wages to be paid, have offered the longshoremen the maximum of their demands from the Railway Company, that is Ninety Cents per hour plus fifteen per cent to provide for the higher cost of living said to obtain in Prince Rupert.

They have refused to accept our offer and in the meantime our mills and those who would be working in them are idle.

We now make the same offer to any who wish to handle lumber—longshoremen included—namely

$1.03½ per Hour

Work will commence as soon as a sufficient number of men can be obtained to make a start. We have about four million feet to handle.
