On Saturday morning there is a zero tide and many parties are being organized to go out for crabs in the early hours. Mc-Nicholl Creek is a favored section but a number of boats are going around to points outside of the harbor in the direction of Georgetown.

Now that the Senior baseball team has made formal application to the City Council for the use of the recreation grounds and have been granted the use of same the boys of the commercial baseball league are wondering where their show is coming in. Their night was Thursday, but this has been taken away. Likely they will play games on Sunday afternoon now, for they are anxious to maintain the interest which has been established among the young working fellows. They have had no importations and are encouraging the fellows who otherwise would have little chance of outdoor sport of this nature. The funds collected have gone to a worthy cause, namely, the erection of a dressing house at the grounds.

In the recent game between the Red Sox and the Sawmill baseball teams the latter substituted Harry Astoria for Hagsted in the seventh. The change made a difference, for the boys in white were beginning to find the curves of Hagsted. Harry whipped over some very fast balls and held the score down. Joe Roehon for the Red Sox pitched the whole nine innings and made a splendid exhibition of keeping in line form. Very few hits were taken from him and most of the runs came in on field errors.

A. K. Nelson, the well known local tonsorial artist, received great praise for his efforts at the Salt Lake yesterday in the swimming line. Friends report that he has twice attempted to swim the English Channel, but some unforeseen circumstance has always prevented him doing so successfully. He made the stretch across the lake twice yesterday afternoon being aided in the feat by the recent removal of his moustache.

At the close of the football game last evening Mayor McClymont took his stand near the rock pile and a large crowd gathered to witness the presentation of the Dominion Day Cup to the winning Callie team. This cup has been the centre of many competitions and the teams winning it to date are the Merchants, 1914; Dry-docks, 1915; Sons of England, 1919, and Callies, 1920. Last evening Capt. Bill Murray received the cup and following the game the Callie players and supporters went down in cars to the St. Andrew's rooms where the whole game was played over again many times during the course of the evening.

Harry Bennett was playing a fine game last evening for the Grand Trunks and did not rest in the second half when they were a man short but tore right in and worked hard for the posts by himself. His shot in the first half was a beauty and the next one in the second half was just as creditable. All the time too he kept talking to the players and held them to position.

Fans on the football line last evening got rather excited when chattering with Billy Lawson over some alleged misplay. Finally they encroached upon the field and Referee Russell had to sound a warning blast from his whistle to give them time to get back.

Tonight there will be a baseball game here between Terrace and a Prince Rupert team. The match will be held on Aeropolis Hill grounds and will commence just as soon as possible after the arrival of the train which ought to be about 7:30. A second match will be played on Friday evening.

One of the most pleasing features of last evening's football game between the Callies and the Grand Trunks was the excellent manner in which Jimmie Currie showed up at right half. His game was as steady as if he had been playing all season. Scarcely ever did he lose the ball and his well directed passes gave the forwards a splendid chance to break through. It was a fast pace all during the one and a half hours' play but Jimmie was right on his job to the end. The calm confidence he displayed in shooting the penalty kick would have kept any team fighting to the last go.

LOWER PRICES WILL INCREASE AIR TRAVEL

PARIS, July 14.—Early announcement is expected of a reduction of passenger rates for air travel between London and Paris, and many are wondering if the day is far distant when it may be cheaper to travel by air than by land and sea. At the beginning of the London-Paris air service last year the price for a one-way ticket on small fast machines was twenty guineas, and fifteen on the larger passenger ships. It is now reported that the fare will soon be reduced to £10 10s.

In one recent week's flying more than 100 passengers were carried in the London-Paris air service, and it is hoped that a reduction in price will increase the number of passengers. There have been ever-increasing numbers of inquiries for the service, but the price has discouraged many prospective passengers.

CALLIES WON COVETED MATCH

Defeated Their Railroad Opponents in One of Season's Most Hotly Contested Encounters.

In the final play-off for the Dominion Day football cup last evening the Callies were victorious over the Grand-Trunk by the score of 3 to 2. The match was hotly contested to the end and the last dangerous rushes of the Grand Trunk forwards made many of the Scotchmen's fans hold their breath in anxious moments. Both teams were playing hard at the finish and when the whistle sounded the Callies were away over the half line and still pressing hard for another tally.

The game opened by a combined rush of the Grand Trunk forwards and four minutes from the opening shortly after having made a most sensational save, goalie Martin for the Callies had a ball past him by Harry Bennett from the right. It was a clean goal and great enthusiasm was manifested on the benches. The striped boys, however, turned right around and came up the field and a last touch from Geo. Sellars landed the leather nicely in the net. Again the Callies were in playing form and Sellars added another tally by a nice shot from the left. At half time the odds were in favor of the Callies by 2 to 1.

Second Half.

Immediately after the resumption of play the fight was on with the Callies playing down hill and determined to hold their lead and the Grand Trunks just as eager to add two more to the total which stood against them. A penalty was given against Tommy Black of the Callies and O'Donnell took the kick. Bill Martin was on his toes but was not necessary for the ball soared well over the cross bar. A few minutes later a penalty was given on Ed. Ross and the stalwart Jim Currie converted the ball very easily to a goal. It was at this time that the referee ordered Bill Lawson off the field. He came back again later on and wanted to stay as he maintained that he had gone off of his own accord. The railroad boys were now pressing hard with one man short but were unable to beat down the strong defence of Bill Murray's defenders. Finally Harry Bennett made a getaway and scored a fine goal. The blues were unable to make another tally however, and the game ended in favor of the Callies by a 3 to 2 score.

George Russell had the duties of refereeing last night's match and his task was no pleasant one as some rather bitter remarks were made by hostile tongues. F. Davies and Ed Craggs assisted at the side lines.
