Serving a Bigger Purpose

A fresh idea is taking hold in regard to silverware. Instead of being locked away and never used as in former times it is being brought into service regularly.

And why not? Silverware is made for use. It is wonderfully durable—will last for a lifetime—and who does not find pleasure in its beautiful lines and chaste workmanship?

Buy silverware for utility as well as for ornament—it will yield pleasure tenfold.

Elks Picnic to Tugwell Island was Great Success

Large Attendance of Members of the Order and their Friends enjoy hospitali y of forest monarchs

Over 150 attended the Elks' picnic to Tugwell Island yesterday. Messrs. Doherty, Jack Knight, W. E. Thompson, Bill Reid and L. M. Fuller were the committee at the head of affairs and these five valiants spared no efforts to give a good time to all present. The first boat left at 9:30 and it was twelve noon before all were safely landed on the big beach at Tugwell. The boats carrying the picnickers were the "Oh Baby," "23," G. O. Rowe's launch, F. H. Mobley's launch and George Frizzell's launch.

In the afternoon a program of sports was arranged with many taking part in the various events. Amongst some of the championships established were Fred Gilhuly's cake eating event and Ben Self's high jump. Two ladies' baseball games were staged and also a double header for the men. Mrs. Clementson made it very evident that the baseball ability was not confined to only one side of the house. A very exciting feature was the challenge race between George Frizzell and George Tite, at least the crowd thought so until it ended in a tie. Cries arose that it had been a put up job but one look at the panting champions would have convinced the most critical that it must have been a supreme effort of both to cover the ground.

The refreshment booth did a rapid business. Everything was given away by the loudly gesticulating gentleman who stood behind the bench. He apparently had had considerable experience in the circus line from the way that he announced his wares. Pop corn, water melon, bananas and ice cream were dispensed at absolutely no cost to all desiring them.

The tables were in charge of Steward "Gil" and a most excellent repast was provided. Table decorations suited the surroundings and the festive boards were loaded with good things to eat. All had an opportunity to show speed when the time came to taste the many varieties of sandwiches, cake and salad.

The return from the picnic grounds commenced at eight o'clock although it was well on to midnight before the last sounds of the revellers had died away at the waterfront. Apparently all energy had not been used up in the games during the day for lusty voices sounded across the waters in many popular choruses. As boat after boat came in the effect was delightful. W. J. Cash says "It was SOME-day" and he ought to know.

VEILED ADVENTURE AT THE WESTHOLME

"The Veiled Adventure," Constance Talmadge's newest picture which can be seen tonight at the Westholme Theatre, is a romantic comedy plus drama which holds you to the end.

It is the story of Geraldine Parker, a young and beautiful society girl, whose marriage to Reginald Crocker, a society "fop" is averted, when she, in trying to teach a young man from Texas a lesson as to the influence of woman over man, is herself enlightened regarding men and unconsciously teaches herself a vital lesson of life.
