PROPOSAL TO TAX THEATRE IS POSTPONED

ByLaw Laid on Table for a Week to Allow Time to Consider It.

The question of putting another tax on the Prince Rupert Amusement Company in addition to three already being paid was discussed last night on a motion to delay the second reading of a bylaw to give effect to the plan. The company, which owns the two local theatres, already pays the city a tax of $200 and the provincial government gets a seating tax of $212 and an amusement tax of about $5,000 a year. The proposal is to put on an amusement tax for the benefit of the local schools or hospital.

Last night Alderman Kerr moved an amendment that the bylaw be read a second time six months from now, and this was seconded by Alderman Perry for the purpose of introducing a discussion. Mr. Kerr explained that it was the people who would pay this tax, not the theatres. He thought the schools and hospital were pretty well provided for.

Mayor McClymont: "The hospital is running behind $400 a month."

Alderman McLennan hoped that concrete figures would be brought by Alderman Kerr. It might be an injustice and if so he would like to know about it. Possibly it would be of such a nature as to be specially burdensome and such as the theatres could not pay.

Alderman Perry moved an amendment to the amendment, asking that the bylaw lie on the table for a month. This, on the suggestion of Alderman McLennan, was changed to a week and was accepted as the original amendment and carried.

THAT a Ford car was found in the bottom of Victoria harbor when dredging operations were going on off the garbage wharf. No one claimed the Lizzie so it is supposed it was just discarded garbage.

THAT to tax or not to tax, that is the question.

THAT the right and proper thing is to tax the other fellow.

THAT my business is to shine at night, but I do not want anyone to take a shine out of me by taxing my dog or gun or even my glow.

THAT I am not the only one that shines at night.

THAT some young men about town shine almost every night.

THAT it is all right to shine your shoes or your stove or even your windows, but never "cut a shine."

THAT it is quite the correct thing to be a "shining light."

THAT there be some who look for the bad in everything.

THAT there be a few who see only the good.

THAT the man who is always looking for the evil motive to a commendable action is a disagreeable person.

THAT it is pleasanter to think well of our neighbors—pleasanter for us and for them.

THAT if I told all I know about you and your friends, I should be making things very uncomfortable for you and for me.

THAT you may be happy for I won't tell.

THAT is because I am not a woman.

A petition from some residents on Tenth Ave. asking for a sidewalk extending for a few blocks, was referred to the Board of Works by the City Council last night. It was explained that this work would have to be done under the local improvement scheme.

Yesterday Mitchell & Currie started work on a new house for G. J. Stephen in Section 2. When completed the house will be valued in the neighborhood of the $1,000 mark.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL, DISCUSSED LAST NIGHT BY COUNCIL

The question of garbage disposal was discussed by the city council at its regular meeting last night, Mayor McClymont in the chair, and there being present all the aldermen except Ald. Casey and Currie.

The matter came up from the reading of a letter from the harbor master in which he mentioned that the garbage scow was allowed to remain too long at the wharf with the results that people were annoyed by the unsavory odor and rats were encouraged there. He had been instructed to prevent the landing of rats from ships on account of the prevalence of bubonic plague in the East.

In the letter Captain McCoskrie also referred to the necessity of taking the scow a proper distance outside the harbor before dumping. He also suggested that the leak from the scow polluted the harbor.

Mayor's Remarks.

In referring the letter to the Board of Health, Mayor McClymont remarked that the original contract provided for towing the scow out two hours before high tide in order that the receding tide might carry the refuse well outside. This had not been done and on stormy days it had not been taken far enough. Another difficulty they had to contend with was that children turned off the spray of water that was supposed to be falling on it all the time.

HANDCUFF KING WAS UNUSUALLY CLEVER

Related by Marriage to Local Resident.

In connection with the drowning of George Place, the handcuff king at Calgary, as reported in the Daily News yesterday, the unfortunate man was a personal friend and relative by marriage of Frank Dibb of the R. P. Latta Co. of this city. Mr. Dibb says he was very clever. One more than one occasion he had been shut in the vault of the newspaper on which Mr. Dibb worked and on each occasion got out. He sometimes jumped into the water when shackled and freed himself when in the water.

Naturally Mr. Dibb is wondering if he was doing any of these stunts when he met his end.
