The Test of a Salad

The test of a good salad, according to Mrs. Wells, is the dressing. She says almost any combination of vegetables and fruits is nice.

She uses the simple recipe given in one of these little announcements and says there is never any doubt about the result.

If anyone cares for it, please write for Pacific Milk Salad Dressing recipe.

To Make a Tart Salad Jell

Jiffy-Jell is for salads as well as desserts. Get the lime-fruit flavor and it will make you a tart, green salad jell. Mint flavor makes a mint jell.

The fruit flavors in Jiffy-Jell are fruit-juice essences in vials—a bottle in each package. They are real fruit, and the flavor is abundant. No artificial flavors—no saccharine.

Try loganberry or pineapple flavor for a dessert, and learn what delicious dainties Jiffy-Jell brings to your table. A package will serve six people.

Jiffy-Jell with its natural fruit flavor costs much less than jam or marmalade.

KEEP PRIZE LISTS

Dear Mr. Editor—It has already been a matter of comment and may be one of business for future Directorates of our Annual Industrial Exhibition to gather up the data and experience of the Association since its inception and get out a prize list that might be repeated for several years. Supplementary items and information could be issued in small bulk and at minimum cost. There is no logical reason, in the opinion of some, why an expensive booklet such as the one now in the mails should not be kept carefully by each and every exhibitor. Economy in a matter of this kind is well within our reach, and practice of it will mean a saving to all interested.

For the possible adoption of such a course I would ask you therefore to suggest to your readers that they keep their prize lists. The next effort may get something of a more or less permanent nature. The present one is faulty, and no one, perhaps, knows it any better than the Secretary. I would suggest that common sense criticism be encouraged and that for the public good a yet earlier commencement be made on the premium lists. I repeat: advise your readers to consider the time and effort of the Committee in doing what has been done and to put the lists on their book shelves for future reference.

D. McD. HUNTER, Secretary.

BRITISH POLICY IN PALESTINE

Outline Given at Ex-Kaiser's Palace on Mount of Olives

LONDON, Aug. 5.—While the Zionist policy was being discussed at a Congress in London, Sir Herbert Samuel, the High Commissioner, formally inaugurated the British mandatory administration of Palestine. To the Palestinian notables assembled at the Government House, the palace of the ex-Emperor of Germany, on the Mount of Olives, he first read the message of His Majesty, and then outlined the principles which are to direct his administration.

No revenue, he declared, will be drawn by Great Britain from Palestine. The Civil Service is to be open to all Palestinians irrespective of creed. "The ports and frontiers will shortly be opened to limited immigration and its numbers will be proportioned to the employment and housing accommodation available in the country." Pilgrims and travellers will be encouraged. For the safeguarding of existing settlements a cadastral survey is to be undertaken, while a land commission and special banks will devote themselves to the progress of agriculture.

Sir Herbert also mentioned an ambitious programme of contemplated public works, among them the construction of a harbor at Haifa. The King's message expressly stated that the terms of the mandate have to "be finally approved by the League of Nations."
