Excellent Progress with New Hays Cove School

Cement Work should be all complete in five or six weeks; Brick arriving in large quantities

The new school building is making excellent progress. Most of the basement concrete is already laid and the first story is rising fast and most of it will be ready this month. Contractor Basso-Bert says he will be away from there in five or six weeks. Brick is arriving fast. Just now teams are hauling facing brick and as soon as the present consignment is on the ground there will be 100,000 at the site and a lot of them already laid.

Few people realize what a fine building this school will be. Architect Potter yesterday went over the plans with a Daily News representative. With the building laid out and the walls going up it is easy to see what the plans mean. In all there will be eighteen class rooms and a large assembly hall to seat four hundred, with a gallery at the lower end and a stage at the other. This room is on the top floor.

The ordinary class rooms are on the two upper floors, six on each, with a principal's room and library and teachers' lunch room on the second floor. Each of these rooms is designed to accommodate forty pupils.

Possibly Swimming Bath.

On the lower floor are the domestic science, manual training and kindergarten rooms, while below that again are outside the main building is the furnace room and coal sheds with a suitable place for a swimming bath should there be money enough to build it.

The school faces down sixth Avenue and will, when complete, be a very imposing structure that will be a credit to the city. The main entrance leads direct to the second floor and there are plenty of emergency exits and fire escapes provided so that there will be no danger in case of fire. Also there will be little in the building of an inflammable nature as all the hallways are of concrete.

Complete in Spring.

Colonel McMorde, the contractor for the job, says that there is no hope of having the building ready by the end of the year, but given reasonable weather and with no serious holdup he thinks at least part of it will be ready for occupancy by Easter. In the meantime they will work hard to get the roof on before the bad weather comes, if possible.

Commence Dock when Tug Arrives

is on way now with Dredge and Scows preparatory to commencing active operations; Magoffin in City

"Just as soon as the tug with the dredge and scows arrives in port, we will be able to commence work at once," said S. S. Magoffin, the contractor for the new G. T. P. dock. The tug referred to with the dredge and other supplies left Vancouver some time ago and when last heard of was in the neighborhood of Swanson Bay about 100 miles south. Since that time the storm of the past two evenings has very likely tied up the north-bound outfit, but they are expected in at any time now. This is the only thing which now holds up the immediate procedure with the preliminary dredging and filling.

Mr. Magoffin, who arrived from Prince George last evening, says that the instructions are to rush the dock as quickly as possible. It is a sore need and the well known contractor smiled at the remark of the ministers who visited here recently, when they used the word "advisability" in regard to the building of a new wharf here.

COMMITTEES FOR SPORTS LABOR DAY

Arrangements Made for Big Event on First Monday in September.

Last evening's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was given over mainly to the arrangement of committees to take charge of affairs for the Labor Day celebration. Ways and means for providing a splendid day's entertainment were fully discussed and S. D. Macdonald was appointed chairman over all with Arthur Ellis as secretary.

Two committees were appointed to canvass the business men and the industrial concerns. On the former are Harry Weber, Harvey Fraser and S. D. Macdonald, and on the latter are J. R. Beatty, J. J. Gillis and A. Ellis.

A large sports committee was appointed, consisting of Harry Weber, Joe Ratchford, W. E. Thompson, Harvey Fraser, Gilbert Campbell and Jas. Simpson. The advertising committee is as follows: J. M. Campbell, W. Shortridge and R. O. Miller, and the finance committee will be made up of Messrs. Beatty, Ellis, Gillis and Macdonald.

A very pleasant feature of the evening was an address by Mr. Crawford, business agent of the sheet metal workers of Vancouver, who is now on his way south. The message of the visitor was appreciated by all present.

BOWSER COMING MONDAY NEXT

Will Discuss Affairs of Province Here From Point of View of Opposition.

W. J. Bowser, leader of the opposition in the Provincial Legislature, is expected here on Sunday night and will address the people of Prince Rupert on the public affairs of the province as he sees them on Monday evening in the Empress Theatre.

Mr. Bowser was premier of the province from the time the late Sir Richard McBride resigned until he was defeated by the late Mr. Brewster. At that time people were much dissatisfied with his government and he went back to the Legislature with very few followers. Now he is looking forward to another election and is flouting the country telling the people of what he considers to be the sins of the present government and what he would do if he were in power again.

Mr. Bowser is a good speaker and is always entertaining. Doubtless there will be a good crowd out to hear him.
