Mrs. F. H. Dart Likes Flavor

Mrs. Dartt says they use Pacific Milk for everything but tea. She had tried canned milk "as a makedo" on several occasions, but she could never learn to like it, as she thought.

Finally one day when they were out of milk she got a tin of Pacific.

The flavor was so natural and a cake turned out so well that she tried it again.

Now they use about 30 cans a month.

CALLIES BEAT ENGLISHMEN

Score of 2 to 0 in Favor of the Scotsmen in Football Game Last Night.

Last night the Sons of England went down to defeat before the Callies to the score of 2 to 0. The English players were late in arriving on the grounds and they played with but ten men. Their star forward, Percy Tinker, and back, Bert Wearmouth, were unable to play and some of the Sons' supporters had a hunch how the match would swing without the assistance of two such stalwarts. The Callies were not playing up to their usual tone of football, which may have been due in part to the apparent weakness of the team against which they were contesting.

The game started off with the Englishmen playing down hill and some good tries were made by the boys in red but the Callies could not stand back all the time so the ball was passed out to Tommy Black. Tommy waited for position and then scored an easy goal. Just before the closing whistle there was a scrimmage in front of the Callie goal but little was gained. It was here that Fred Hardy got knocked out.

In the second half the play still remained with the Callies for seldom did the ball come near Bill Martin, the Scotch goal tender. The Callies pressed hard and the leather was passed to Black at outside left who tore in and tallied. This ended the scoring for the game. On the whole the match was rather listless with a kick here, kick there air shown by many of the players.

Sid Thompson refereed the game with S. L. Warrior and Ed. Craggs on the side-lines.

The Callies were as follows:—Martin; Menzie and Stewart; Currie, Murray and Campbell; Boote, Wiggins, Marnell, White and Black.

The Sons of England were as follows:—Winsby; Darton, Tabrum, Crisp and Quayle; Hardy, Shimmons, Lambe, Fanthorpe and Farquahar.

Capt. Freeman calls attention to the dangers attending a trip around the Island by anyone not acquainted with local waters. He says that there are rocks in the Butzl rapids and also in the middle narrows between the two lakes. At Zenardi rapids a boat with a mast cannot get under the bridge and at any tide higher than 18 feet an ordinary launch is unable to get through.

IRISH SPLIT IN THE STATES

De Valera Sidetracked, According to Letters Taken in England.

LONDON, August 11.—At Bow-street Police Court before Sir Chartres Birton, William Barry, 31, fireman in the steamship New York, living at Shrewbury-road, Oclon, Birkenhead, was charged on remand under the Defence of the Realm Act with bringing into the United Kingdom and having in his possession two automatic pistols and 277 cartridges; and, further, with being in possession of eight letters for transmission otherwise than through the post. The defendant pleaded "Guilty." Sir Archibald Bodkin conducted the case for the Director of Public Prosecutions; J. H. MacDonnell defended.

Sir Archibald Bodkin said that the ship in which the defendant worked as a fireman left New York on June 21 and arrived at Southampton on July 2. On that day Police Constable Gardener saw the defendant in close conversation with another man in Southampton Docks. Noticing that the defendant's pockets were bulky, he took him to the station, where the police found in his pockets and belt two pistols and 277 rounds of ammunition. Distributed about his clothing were also 17 packets and two envelopes, one containing cuttings from newspapers published in America, and the other a number of letters.

Sending Revolvers.

Asked to account for his possession of these things, he said that they had been given to him by a man he did not know to take from New York to Liverpool, but he had lost the address. In one of the letters there was this passage: "It is now 2 a. m. and the man is waiting, so I will finish. Another man will be going to London on Wednesday, and I will send more news then." This letter was signed "John," and was believed to have been written by a man named John Noonans. A passage from another letter was: "I am sending by this delivery two parcels, one containing 400 rounds of 9mm. auto; the other 3 auto revolvers and 48 rounds of filling for the same, two spare magazines, and a leather case. I will send more on Wednesday."

De Valera Sidetracked.

Counsel gathered that the supporters of and those connected with De Valera in America had met with considerable opposition from Judge Cohalan, whose supporters had taken action independently of the wishes of De Valera, and that the latter had been put on one side, or "sidetracked," according to the expression used in the letters.

Mr. MacDonnell objected to counsel putting his own interpretation on the letters, and Sir Archibald quoted a passage from a letter of a man in America to his brother, which said: "You will probably have seen by now that things have become more serious since —— has openly charged De Valera with spending $50,000 subscribed for the fund." In the same letter there were these passages: "De Valera refuses to be the puppet of any clique." "It is hoped that the split which has taken place here will not affect Ireland."

Not Terrible.

Mr. MacDonnell urged in mitigation that the defendant was a young man who until six or seven years ago was employed as a farm laborer. With regard to the letters, there was no proof that he knew what the contents were, and they contained nothing of a terrible nature.

Mr. MacDonnell said that the letters would have been delivered in the ordinary course of post, but this method was adopted because they could be delivered more quickly. The defendant admitted that the story he told on arrest was untrue. The real fact was that another man employed in his vessel had the letters, and as he was not going ashore so soon as the defendant he got him to take them for him. The defendant refused to give away the man's name.

Two Months.

The magistrate said it might be that the contents of the letters were not known to the defendant, but he was certainly responsible for the introduction of letters into this country and any harm they might do. He passed sentence of two months' imprisonment in the second division.

FRUIT PRICES ARE LOWER

Raspberries Rather Scarce This Year — Bartlett Pears Are High.

With this week's fruit arrivals the price is lessening a little all round and the various lines are arriving in larger quantities. The strawberries, however, are now over and raspberries seem to be very scarce this year. Apricots and peaches are expected in greater numbers in about two or three weeks. The black currants and red currants are coming in from the outside in very good condition. The Bartlett pears are still rather high priced, but it is a satisfaction to see them coming in.

Corn on the cob appears on the vegetable display counters. Sweet potatoes are on the market at 25 cents per pound. Green and wax beans are a little lower than last week but the staple vegetables remain about the same although new potatoes are now selling at $4.25 per sack.

A few of the meat prices have come down slightly but there is no marked depression.
