DAILY EDITION.

Thursday, August 26, 1920.

Not Much Left of Bowser Fabric.

There is not much left of the Bowser fabric since the premier spoke in the Empress Theatre last night. All the flimsiness of the Monday night attack was exposed and there are few people who heard Farmer John last night who are not well satisfied that the Government of the province is in such capable hands.

There is little polish to the Premier's method of address, but there is always sound sense. The conviction is carried to the hearer that the speaker knows what he is talking about.

Death of Dr. Large A Distinct Loss.

The death of Dr. Large of Port Simpson is a distinct loss to the whole coast. The medical missionary was much more than a missionary and much more than a mere doctor. He was the friend and adviser of many and the motive power in much of the uplift work among both Indians and whites on the coast.

Prince Rupert people knew him well as a sweet singer who gave his services freely when asked and who, on many occasions aided them in concerts for charitable or patriotic purposes. The widow and family have the sincere sympathy of everyone.

Preparations Well Advanced.

Preparations for the forthcoming fair appear to be in excellent shape this year. Great interest is being manifested about the city in the sports and attractions end and especially in the flying. The taking of moving pictures will also be interesting and will be of great advertising value to the city as they will be exhibited widely over the continent and people may gain a better idea of what there really is at Prince Rupert. The city is going to have more visitors than ever and they must be entertained in such a manner that they will not go away disappointed. From all appearances the Agricultural Association knows its work and is going to carry it through most successfully.

Real Object of Annual Exhibition.

Everybody talks about the sports and attractions and the spectacular end of the Fair a great deal and it would almost seem that they have lost sight of the primary object of the Exhibition. The real object is to demonstrate the agricultural and industrial accomplishments of the district and educate as to the possibilities. It is very essential that these be not lost sight of for, were they, the annual event would not be an exhibition but one big celebration. Although there is to be a big sports and attractions program, the public should not forget that the centre of the affair will be at the Exhibition Building and not at the waterfront, sports grounds or race course.

R. R. No. 1. LOENE, Ont.
 "For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. I treated with doctors, and tried nearly everything without benefit. Finally, I tried 'Fruit-a-lives'. Before I had used half a box I saw improvement; the pain was easier and the swelling started to go down. I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place".

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

ADRIFT IN DORY FOR MANY DAYS

Adrift in the Bering Sea in a dory for five days, without food or water, with a choppy sea and a heavy wind howling, many miles from shore and with little hope of being picked up, was the trying experience endured by Dan Denison, a cod fisherman who arrived in Ketchikan last night on his way south, says the Ketchikan Chronicle. The terrible experience left no bad effects apparently, and Mr. Denison said that he felt as well as ever.

As a member of the crew of the Maid of Orleans, Denison went north some weeks ago. He left the boat in his dory, intending to be back within a short time. A heavy fog fell which shut him off from the Maid of Orleans and then a wind sent him far adrift. Had it not been for a heavy rain he would have been entirely without water, but he succeeded in securing sufficient water in this manner to quench his thirst somewhat.

After five days he was picked up by a gasboat and taken to Port Moller where he remained until he was again picked up by the steamship Catherine D. He is returning to Seattle, the home port of the Maid of Orleans.

The Man in the Moon

SAYS:-

THAT it is less than a month until Fair time and everybody is looking forward to the best event yet this year.

THAT Prince Rupert will do the entertaining and the outside places will be expected to show what they have been doing in the last year.

THAT some of the places didn't make a good showing last year but they will be able to show how progressive they are this.

THAT he saw a drunk man today and he wonders where "he got it."

THAT there must be still some more left.

THAT a few $300 fines will help to pay expenses to say nothing of all the perfectly good liquor that is being confiscated.

THAT the magistrate said "The liquor is confiscated to His Majesty the King." His Majesty's cellar has been considerably filled by the recent Rupert seizures.

THAT Terrace is joining the onward march of civilization and also wants an electric light plant.
