CARDINAL ON NEW PALESTINE

Bourne Objects to Plan to Set Up Jewish State in Holy Land

In his presidential address at the Catholic Congress in Liverpool recently Cardinal Bourne said: "I cannot believe that the statesmen who had conceived it have realized or foreseen its immediate, still less its ultimate, consequences. There are many questions rising out of it which remained unanswered, but the salient fact that a new non-Christian influence is being deliberately set up in the land whence countless generations of Christendom have longed and striven to oust a non-Christian power is so tremendous in its import that without the smallest anti-Jewish prejudice men of every Christian nation are justified in asking, as they are actually asking, what is the purpose, what is to be the outcome of so grave a political departure. (Cheers.)

"Letters continue to reach me which prove that the resistance of both Christians and Moslems to this invasion of Zionism has in no way lessened, but tends to become still more acute. The Zionists dispose of large funds. They are buying from the Palestinians, impoverished by the war, lands and houses which the former are almost compelled to sell, for while the Jews can easily obtain loans at a very low rate of interest Christians and Moslems can obtain advances for the development of their enterprise only upon terms that are too onerous for acceptance. Thus, even if a direct political control is definitely excluded by the British administrators, there is every danger of the establishment of a Zionist economic and financial domination which would be no less unacceptable in its results. (Cheers.)

"Would it not be wise for our Government, without in any way retracting from the mandate entrusted to it by the League of Nations, to give to the other nations of Europe—to France, Belgium, Italy, Spain, and in due time to the central nations, and, of course, to America, North and South,—some kind of representation, apart from the usual consular agents, in the guardianship of these sacred shrines of Christendom. They do not belong to the Government of Palestine alone, nor to England, but they are the heritage of the whole Christian world. Action of this kind would have far-reaching consequences in gaining for the British administration of Palestine the universal confidence which is necessary for its complete success."
