ANITA STEWART AT EMPRESS TONIGHT

An almost lifelike story of how a simple, inconspicuous girl, through a strange series of incidents arose from the depths of a western roadhouse and obscure and uncertain parentage to a position of wealth and power in her community is the story of "The Fighting Shepherdess," from the famous book by Caroline Lockhart, and the latest Anita Stewart production which will be seen at the Empress Theatre tonight.

The natural inclinations of the girl are against the surroundings in which she was placed and it so transpired that by chance a recluse sheep-herder with a sense of chivalry arrived at the tavern to champion her cause against the advances of an objectionable character. It was through the opportunity offered by this man that Kate was able to leave the tavern and take up a life as a hermit girl.

An appealing romance enters the story shortly after Kate leaves the tavern.

'MIRACLE MAN' HERE TONIGHT

A superb, dramatic Paramount-Artcraft feature, "The Miracle Man," which will be on view at the Westholme Theatre tonight is declared to be one of the really great screen dramas of recent years. It was written by Frank L. Packard and produced as a stage play by George M. Cohan and packed the Broadway Theatre in the season of 1916-17, where it played for many months. The screen version is said to be even more absorbing and thrilling in its development of the striking story, which shows the marvellous transformation under the beneficent influence of an ennobling environment of four of the most notorious crooks of New York's underworld.

Hearing of the healing powers of this old man of the hills, Tom Burke and his band determine to capitalize them to enrich themselves. Little did they reckon that in their new field of operations they were destined to undergo a magical transformation, and this forms the basis of one of the most thrilling stories ever shown.

GERMAN AS SPY IN U. S. ARMY

Photograph of Self in Uniform Gave his Game Away

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Inordinate pride caused the downfall of Theo. Chude, German spy, confessed murderer of three persons in Berlin, and who has been posing as Lieut. Arthur Kincaid. When he took over the personality of the United States officer and began drawing Kincaid's back pay, Schude destroyed everything that would point to his real identity, with the exception of a photograph of himself in a German uniform. He was so proud of the picture he would not destroy it, but hid it in the bottom of a trunk. One day his playful buddies upset the trunk, found the portrait and Schude's arrest and exposure followed.

The spy arrived here from San Francisco in the custody of two Deputy United States Marshals. He said he was ready to plead guilty to posing as Lieut. Kincaid and of defrauding the Government of $1,600, but denied he had operated at any time as a German Government spy in American army ranks.

Captured by French

"I came to the United States in 1913," he said, "and was here for five months. Then I went back to Germany, and the war started. I entered the German army and served until 1917, when I was captured by the French. I escaped, returned to Germany and entered the secret service. "I got hold of the papers captured from Lieut. Kincaid, an American. I did not need them then, but kept them for an emergency. After the war I shot one of the leaders of the Communist party in Berlin, April 1919, and was sentenced to die on May 19. I managed to escape from prison by killing two men, and reached Brussels, where I fell ill.

Signed Pay Cheques.

"I told the Belgians I was a United States officer, and showed them Kincaid's papers. They notified the United States Legation, which sent me to Antwerp and later to Paris. Then I was brought to Fort Sheridan, Illinois. At the fort they told me to get a uniform, but I replied that I had no money. Then I signed a pay cheque voucher as Lieut. Kincaid, bought a uniform and went to San Francisco. By signing Kincaid's vouchers I received $1,600 back pay. Everything would have worked out nicely had I only destroyed that photograph of myself in German uniform."

Schude is slim, a decided blonde 23 years old, and a thorough German.
