HAIDA CHIEF PASSES AWAY

Charles Edenshaw Leaves Many Descendants at Masset and Other Points.

HIS TRIBE FORMERLY RULED WHOLE COAST

The Indians of Queen Charlotte Islands are mourning the loss of the oldest and most respected Chief of the Haidas. Charles Edenshaw passed away on September 10 at his home on the Massett Reserve. He was the first Chief Edenshaw and aged seventy years.

For many years before the arrival of the whites the Edenshaws ruled, from the shores of Alaska to Vancouver Island. At the head of the most powerful band of warriors, they warred with almost every tribe between the Columbia river in Oregon and the Fraser river. The tribes under the chiefship of the Edenshaws numbered many thousands of Haidas; but the nation is passing, with but six hundred comprising the bands whose deserted settlements may be seen from one end of the Queen Charlotte Islands to the other.

Fine Carvings.

Chief Charles Edenshaw during late years engaged in reproducing the gold, silver, slate and wooden carvings, so much prized by visitors. His handiwork is on view in many museums and other places in Europe and the United States. He was a quiet, unassuming Christian, having accepted the teachings of the missionaries on their first visit to Massett. He leaves a large number of relatives in Alaska, Skidegate and Massett. A widow and three daughters reside on Queen Charlotte Islands. Henry Edenshaw is a nephew of the deceased.

The Funeral.

The funeral was held at Massett. Contingents of relatives and friends, from all portions of the district formerly under the chiefship of the deceased, attended the funeral, which took place from the Anglican Church on Massett reserve which the dead chief assisted in constructing over half a century ago, and of which he was one of the most consistent of members during many years.

Sport Briefs

In a well contested and clean football game, the Port Simpson native team defeated Cedarvale at football of the Acropolis Hill last evening, the score being 2-0. Fred Hardy was the referee and Johnnie Crossley and Smith were the linesmen.

Captain Ralph Smith, of the Colts Intermediate baseball champs, announced this morning that his team had accepted the challenge of the Butchers and would play as soon as the grounds are available.

The Red Sox defeated the Saw Mill in a rather loose game of baseball at the Acropolis grounds yesterday afternoon. The final score was 13-8 and the Sox were decidedly the superior team. E. A. Donahue was strikes and balls umpire and Smith officiated at the bases.

In the departure of James Mitchell and his sister, Caroline, for the University of B.C. last night, athletic circles in the city will feel a loss. Jimmie was a consistently good football and baseball player with the Callies and Red Sox and Miss Caroline was an enthusiastic supporter of intermediate baseball, her lot, however, being cast with the team of her younger brother, George, the Colts.

Harvey Fraser, the popular manager of the Colts baseball team, was the host at a celebration for his players on Saturday night. First the whole team with its girl rooters took in "The Miracle Man" at the Westholme and then adorned to the St. Regis where the "big feed" was enjoyed. Harvey has further reached the hearts of his athletic satellites.

Despatches from the south indicate that all sports on the Pacific Coast were declared off on Saturday because of the rain.

SOCIETY TAKES PART IN NEW THOMAS PLAY "THE GLORIOUS LADY"

Members of Exclusive Social Club
Appear in Spectacular Race Scene.

It is not frequent that theatre audiences are furnished the titbit of seeing society people play roles in a picture play, but this is the case in Olive Thomas' picture, "The Glorious Lady," which will be shown at the Westholme to-night.

A feature of the play is an old-time steeplechase, known as a "point to point" race, an English classic that is foremost among the events of each year. After an exhaustive search the Fairfax and Westchester Club, near the Rockefeller estate at Greenwich, Conn., was secured for the scene.

The action of the play is laid in England and the jumping course at the club fitted perfectly into the picture. There is no spot more characteristically English in all this country. The club's grounds include lake, hills and a rolling country, as if they were provisionally transplanted from Yorkshire itself.

To feature them as contestants in the "point to point" race, with Olive Thomas riding against them, members of the club were enlisted. The idea of taking hurdle and jumps before a motion picture camera met with instant appeal and the race that resulted was an earnest and hotly contested one.

KETCHIKAN LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY ASKS FOR EXTENSION

KETCHIKAN, Sept. 11.—Application has been made to the city council by the Citizen's Light, Power and Water Company for a twenty year extension of its franchise.

The preamble to the application states that the growth of the city necessitates an expansion of the company's plant, but that the expenditure would not be justified unless the company had a definite renewal of its franchise.

The present franchise will expire in the spring of 1922, but the company desires to start work on extensions previous to that time.

After receiving the application last night, the council tabled it for consideration at a special meeting to be held in the near future.

At the general election last spring, a referendum petition was adopted in favor of an extension of the franchise and another petition was adopted in opposition to municipal ownership. The law provides that the council shall first pass an ordinance for the extension, which ordinance must be submitted to the voters for their approval.
