BRINGS BETTER TONE. All its features combine toward that coveted achievement.

Suppressed or muffled tones are absent. There is a roundness or fullness of expression that is quickly noted the first time you hear the Brunswick.

It eliminates so-called "surface noises" for it has the only counter balanced reproducer.

The Tone Amplifier, built to conform to acoustic laws is another feature of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. Here again tone waves, having been reproduced perfectly, are allowed to amplify and develop naturally.

In every particular and considered as a unit, the Brunswick Method of Reproduction is one of the greatest advancements in the phonographic art. It brings final perfection, new refinements.

Your ear will quickly detect the superiority of the Brunswick. A comparison will award the Brunswick first choice.

So if you seek the utmost in a phonograph, be sure to hear the Brunswick first.

LESS PRODUCTION IN BRITISH MINES FOR WORKMEN EMPLOYED

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The preliminary figures regarding the output from British mines, which have been issued for 1919, have aroused particular interest here because of the struggle in progress between the coal miners and the government. While they are not a complete record of the mine output, they are substantially complete for coal, copper, lead and zinc. Despite the number of men demobilized in 1919, which increased the number of employees in mines by no less than 183,286, the yield of minerals, with the exception of coal, is generally lower, while in the case of coal the increase was inappreciable.

The returns bring out the reduced per capita production of miners employed under the coal mines act. The number of men employed in 1919 exceeded those employed in the same industry in 1913 by 64,423, yet the output of 1919 was only 229,74,126 tons, compared with 287,430,473 tons in 1913. The contrast is striking when this is worked out in terms of production per workman. In 1913 this was 332 ton per man underground, while in 1919 it was only 23 tons.

THRIFT CAMPAIGN IN SOUTH AFRICA

Men and Women Organize to Bring Down Prices

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Sept. 13.—A number of economy and thrift campaigns have been organized in cities and towns throughout South Africa in an effort to bring down the prevailing high prices of food and clothing. Most of the organizers are women, and their main purpose is to induce greater simplicity in the make, material and number of dresses and to aim at a simpler standard of living.

As an incentive towards thrift, some 150 savings clubs have been formed in the Cape Peninsula for the purpose of purchasing Union Government certificates. These are similar to the Canadian war savings stamps. Their popularity is spreading rapidly.

The City Council at its meeting last night decided to arrange for a meeting with the committee of the Board of Trade to discuss the low Bay question on Friday evening at 8.00 following the meeting of the board of works.
