PEACE RIVER TO COAST BY WAY OF HAZELTON

Darwin A. Piche, of Peace River, says People Want Connection with This Port

Darwin A. Piche, a resident of the Peace River country, who is at present in this city, has been making representations to the Board of Trade regarding the advisability of a railway from Hazelton tapping the Peace River country. He has been in conference with the commissioner of the Board of Trade and has asked that the local body get in touch with the Peace River boards with a view to petitioning the government to put in such a railroad. Mr. Piche states that the people of the Peace River valley would prefer the Hazelton route in that the Pacific coast outlet would be Prince Rupert instead of Vancouver. The proximity of Prince Rupert and the shorter railway haul to the sea is the sound basis upon which Mr. Piche and the people of the Peace River are asking for the Hazelton and Prince Rupert outlet to the Peace River valley. Premier Oliver when he recently spoke favorably of such a route and the question is especially timely as there are at this time government surveys being made from points north of the Grand Trunk Pacific for the selection of a new Peace River route tributary to the Pacific coast.

The question will be taken up at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade and Mr. Piche has been invited to attend to set forth his views and the claims of the Peace River residents.

DEVELOPMENT OF TANK CORPS

Experimental Grounds in Dorsetshire where Progress is being Made

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Whatever hopes may be centred in the League of Nations as an insurance against future wars, almost every nation has been busily engaged since the Armistice in experimenting with a view to developing and improving weapons of war generally.

The most important experiments have been directed towards the development of the Tank. The French and the Americans, it is believed, have achieved very important results in this direction. British tank experts have not been idle, and although the greatest secrecy has necessarily been maintained, there is every reason to believe that they are highly satisfied with the progress made.

At Wool, in Dorset, the tank corps has an excellent experimental ground, but it has the disadvantage of having no other troops stationed in its vicinity. Combined operations, therefore, cannot be carried out. The military authorities are believed to be fully alive to this disadvantage, and it is thought that, very shortly, as the end of the training season is approaching, a number of tanks will be moved to one of the chief training centres, either Salisbury Plain or Aldershot, with a view to a small scheme of combined operations, in which the Royal Air Force, tanks, artillery and infantry will all take part. It is to be hoped, however, that if these operations take place, some cavalry also will be able to participate, since it is of the utmost importance to have some light thrown on the question to what extent tanks can take the place of cavalry.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

THAT the worst state there is, from a woman's point of view, is the state of suspense.

THAT it is not a state of the union, but comes prior to the union.

THAT discussing women's clothes is said to be like the title of Shakespeare's play, "Much Ado About Nothing."

THAT a Winnipeg wit would have used the insect powder long ago if he had known it was Ford's divver that was keeping up prices.

THAT the Prince of Wales will hardly like to stay at home for long after this gadding about he has been doing. He would have come to Canada again to see one or two of those pretty girls he danced with, but the king would not let him.

THAT it is rumored that when he asked his father if he might come the answer was "Let George do it."

THAT some people when they go hunting take a thirty-three rifle and others a forty-four imagination. Both are effective if used right.

THAT it is worrying to have to pay income tax on ones salary, but to pay it on what we think we are worth would be much worse.

THAT now the rainy season has set in we shall have to put away our golf clubs.

The people of Endako and district are much pleased with the new arrangement of the railroad in deciding to move the passenger division of the Grand Trunk to that point. They feel that this move points to better and quicker service.
