Municipal Laws Under Discussion

POLICE MAKE RAID ON HOTEL VANCOUVER, SEIZE WHISKEY AND ARREST MAN

Medical Changes in Municipal Law are Recommended

Union of Municipalities advise Government to take over High Schools and Hospitals and give Control of Clubs

PRINCE RUPERT, October 7.—The Union of Municipalities convention yesterday urged the Government to take over all high schools and technical schools, and to operate all hospitals. This was a considerable amount of discussion. The Union condemned the action of provincial governments in taking lands within municipalities free of taxation, claiming it was a hardship to the municipalities and put the government in a class along with land speculators. A demand was made that the municipalities be given control of the same as over hotels and that the police commission should be compelled to have the same qualifications as others. The Union rejected the proposal that the provincial government take over the entire police administration of the province, but favored a two-year term for councils.

BASEBALL GAMBLERS CANNOT BE LOCATED

Inquiry at New York Comes to Standstill until Detectives Succeed

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Inquiry into the local phases of the baseball gambling scandal has come to a standstill because the district attorney's detectives have failed to locate three of the alleged gamblers, including Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, after a three days' hunt throughout the city.

Arbitration Party Here Inspecting Properties

Ex-President Taft addressed Canadian Club this afternoon at Prince Rupert Hotel; go south tonight

The party of official valuers of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway arrived last night by special train from the east after having made the journey over the western lines by easy daylight stages to give the officials the opportunity to see the whole system properly. The last stop was made at Smithers where the train remained Tuesday night.

This morning the party inspected the waterfront from one end to the other, visiting the Swanson Bay car ferry, site of the new salmon wharf, the drydock and other waterfront properties of the company.

Tonight they transfer from their private train to the steamer Prince George and will visit Vancouver. On Monday their private train will meet them there and they will continue up the line of the Canadian Northern, joining the Grand Trunk again at Luerne. They will then go to the Great Lakes portion of the road which yet remains to be inspected.

The Party.

The entire party comprises Sir Walter Cassels, chief justice of the exchequer court of Canada; Sir Thomas White, formerly minister of finance; Hon. William H.
Taft, formerly president of the United States; Howard G. Kelley, president of the Grand Trunk Railway; J. B. Berry, consulting engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway; G. T. Riddell, assistant consulting engineer Grand Trunk Railway; A. W. Atwater, K. C., of Montreal, counsel for the Grand Trunk Railway; E. F. Newcombe (Ottawa) counsel for the Government; J. G. Sullivan (Winnipeg), consulting engineer to Government; J. Alex Hutchinson, chief medical officer, Grand Trunk Railway; J. A. Heaman, assistant chief engineer; W. H. Hobbs, private secretary; W. E. Shepley, private secretary; Lady Cassels, and Mrs.
Howard G. Kelley.

The party were guests of the Canadian Club at a luncheon this afternoon. Ex-president Taft be-Changed Condition for Loggers on This Coast

Speaker at Vancouver Convention tells of improvement as result of lessened traffic in drink and other causes

VANCOUVER, October 7.—Nearly a thousand delegates to the Pacific Logging Congress are meeting here to discuss changed lumbering conditions. They represent the industry in seven American states and British Columbia.

At the opening session Norman F. Coleman, president of the Loggers League, spoke of the new status of loggers today. There was a time when the logger was satisfied with dirty blankets and an unsanitary bunk. He now buys eighty-five dollar suits, and dresses up at night and goes to places of amusement.

In one camp, the speaker mentioned, the employees own 27 automobiles, this being the result of the decline in the drink traffic.
There being no opportunity of having an old time convivial spree in one camp, the representative of a bank was given $30,000 to put into the bank on one day.

Dr. Tharaldson, head of the league's sanitary department, said the American camps had installed shower baths, rain and fly proof buildings, sanitary drinking fountains, electric light, and the men were given blankets, sheets and pillowslips. Movies were provided and places for recreation.

Vancouver Hotel Raided by Police

Seattle man arrested, Portland man says he was robbed; Whiskey in Confiscated on several floors

VANCOUVER, October 7.—A city dry squad last night invaded the Hotel Vancouver in response to many complaints that whiskey was being carried openly. Acting Inspector Tuley arrested George King, a Seattle delegate to the Logging Congress, in the rotunda, which at the time was packed by delegates. He was charged with having liquor in his possession.

J. E. Doherty of Portland reported having been assaulted in one of the hotel rooms and his watch, coat and hat taken by the police, who found him under the influence of liquor.

The squad visited several floors and confiscated whiskey which they found.

KING SPEAKS AT EDMONTON

Arrives at Alberta Capital Thirteen Hours Late and Has to Pass Up Prince George.

EDMONTON, October 7.—Alonzo W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, had a good opportunity to study the manner in which Prince Rupert and the Bulkley Valley are treated by the making of the line from Jasper Park to the coast a spur, dependent on the Vancouver line for its service. He arrived here thirteen hours late and had to abandon his proposed call at Prince George.

The leader addressed large meetings at the Presbyterian and First Baptist churches.

EXPERIMENTING IN TAXATION

Dominion to Change Method of Raising Direct Revenue at Next Session.

VANCOUVER, October 7.—The Sun's special Ottawa correspondent predicts radical changes in the system of direct taxation in the next financial budget. It is rumored that the excess profits and luxury taxes will be eliminated and a sales tax of one per cent on the turnover of the manufacturers and importers will take its place. The matter will come before the House of Commons after being discussed in caucus at Ottawa.

BROOKLYN WINS ANOTHER GAME

Tris Speaker Responsible for Today's Winning—No Game Tomorrow.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 7.—Brooklyn annexed her second victory in the third world's series game at this place today by defeating Cleveland 2 to 1. The winning team made both her scores in the first inning while the only Cleveland score was made in the fourth when Tris Speaker hit a twobagger and made the circuit on an error by Loethe.

The batteries today were Miller and Smith for Brooklyn and O'Neil and Cadore for Cleveland. This is the second victory for Brooklyn while Cleveland has only won one game, the first. There will be no game tomorrow as both teams are travelling to Cleveland.
