MARION DAVIES IS BEAUTIFUL DANCER

Career of Charming Player Who Is Featured at Westholme Theatre Tonight.

Marion Davies who does the finest work of her screen career in the film version of that famous Robert W. Chambers story, "The Dark Star," which comes to the Westholme Theatre tonight, began to dance almost as soon as she began to work and her record as a dancer is almost as great as the one she holds undisputed as a beauty whose physical perfections have been internationally acclaimed by the world's greatest masters of the brush.

Her first public appearance was achieved in "Chin Chin," in which she obtained a role, against her parents' wishes and her success before the public was so instantaneous that she was quickly seized as one of the bewildering bevy of girls in the Ziegfield Follies. After this, to the popular success "O Boy!" she lent such exceptional support that film producers began to take notice and to ejaculate "O Boy, what a screen possibility!" As a result, Miss Davies adventured forth, in her picture, which was well received.
