Miners are Expected to Go on Strike Next Monday

and other Transport Men may Join and all Industries be Tied Up; Long Stern Fight is Expected

October 16.—Final preparations are being made for the expected strike of a million miners throughout the province. Emergency measures recommended by the Government and carried out by local authorities and there seems no possibility on the part of all to prepare for a long stern fight. Confidence prevails among people who appreciate that a strike might bring about a critical situation in the industry. Stocks of coal have been accumulated, but public considering partial shut-downs. The national union of railwaymen and the transport union hold separate meetings on Monday to determine the attitude of these organizations. They approved the decision of the miners last month and it is feared they may decide to go on strike.

Missing Fishermen Had An Exciting Experience

Captain Briggs of Bremerton brought Carruthers' men home in his "coast trader" yesterday afternoon

Aboard the trolling boat Idaho, Captain B. J. Briggs, the four missing fishermen from the trawler James Carruthers reached this port yesterday afternoon and the fears that they might have been lost have happily been dispelled. The names of the four men are J. Mansfield, A. Murray, C. Kerr and G. Anderson, and the story of their adventure and rescue is quite interesting.

"It was about 1:25 on the morning of Wednesday last when we left the Carruthers in our dory," said Mr. Mansfield, seen by the News yesterday afternoon, "and we headed for Green Island light about 8 or 9 miles distant. The wind, a howling gale, seemed to change and we saw that it would be impossible to make Green Island, so after our oars had been blown from our hands we decided to run before the wind, thinking we would make Cape Fox, 20 miles to the westward.

Blown Eight Hours. "The wind continued to change until a southeaster was blowing up the channel and we soon saw that Cape Fox could not be made for we were headed straight up Revilla Gigedo Channel. Finally at about 9:30 after being blown for 8 hours, we made shore at Foggy Point 45 miles from Whitesand Island and 35 miles south of Ketchikan, Alaska.

"There we found two ranchers who are taking care of the fish traps. They took us into their cabin and we spent Wednesday and Thursday with them. On Wednesday we saw the Idaho lying at anchor nearby and we went out to see Captain Briggs who brought us into Prince Rupert. We left Foggy Point at 6:15 this morning and reached here at 5:05."

Railway Officials On Visit to City

General Manager Warren says this Not Branch Line, but Section of Transcontinental; Cars not yet delivered

The president and three of the directors of the Canadian National Railways accompanied by other officials of the lines arrived in the city early this morning on a trip of general inspection and left again at noon on their special train. During the presence of the party here there were numerous conferences and consultations and all were busy men. The party comprised D. B. Hanna, president of Canadian National Railways; Colonel Thomas Cantley, R. T. Riley and Robert Hobson, directors; R. P. Ormsby, secretary of the Canadian National Railways; S. J. Hungerford, vice-president in charge of operation; C. B. Brown, engineering assistant, D. Crombie, transportation assistant; C. E. Brokos, mechanical assistant; C. S. Ozowski, construction assistant; A. E. Warren, general manager; J. R. Cameron, assistant general manager; A. H. Eager, general superintendent of rolling stock, and H. A. Dixon, chief engineer. There were also a number of secretaries and other staff members.

Cars Not Delivered. This morning the sawmill and cold storage were visited and a general look at the railway yards taken for the benefit of the directors and others who had not yet paid a visit to the city. Mr. Hanna had conferences with Col. Peck, M. P.; J. W. Nicholls, comptroller of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage, and with Acting Mayor Dyblav.

Asked as to the car situation in regard to the deliveries of the cars recently ordered at Montreal, Mr. Hanna said that deliveries had not yet been made. It was explained by Mr. Hungerford, vice-president, that besides labor troubles the Canada Car Company, which company is building the cars, has had difficulty in obtaining the material for the work.

Station plans are now coming forward and are at Toronto at the present time. The ground was looked over today as was the roundhouse site.

Not Branch Line. "The line from Jasper to Prince Rupert is not a branch line," said A. E. Warren, general manager, with emphasis to the News. "No. 1 transcontinental is merely split at Jasper, one section going to Vancouver and the other to Prince Rupert. If one section is late the other goes on, thus making two sections independent of each other. There should be no unnecessary delay other than those usual in the operation of a railroad."

Speaking of express refrigerator car shortage, Mr. Warren said that 47 freight refrigerators in
