

Mother Twice Saved from Blood-Poison!

The unique power of Zam-Buk is well demonstrated by the case of Mrs. S. Cliff, of Melville, S.D. Here, once again, are facts which convincingly prove that pain, inflammation and blood-poison cannot withstand Zam-Buk's powerful antiseptic healing.

Mrs. Cliff, says, "I gashed my hand severely between the fingers with a piece of tin. The wound, though carefully tended to, somehow became infected and poisoned. I had doctor's treatment and used numerous prescribed remedies but the swelling and throbbing spread right into the shoulder."

"Hearing splendid reports of Zam-Buk I determined to try it. So long as I live I shall remember the wonderful relief experienced the first time I used the balm. Under the cooling and soothing influence of Zam-Buk, pain disappeared, the swelling reduced rapidly and I was at last able to sleep."

"Day by day there was vast improvement, when every trace of inflammation and poisonous matter had been drawn out of the wound by Zam-Buk, perfect healing resulted."

"Again when laid up with my leg, swollen and inflamed from the knee down, there was nothing to touch the trouble but Zam-Buk. This wonderful balm soon put me on the sure road to recovery. To-day my faith in Zam-Buk is such, that never again would I be without it."

IN THE LETTER BOX WILL VOTE DRY

Editor Daily News—It is very gratifying to note the increase in the interest being taken in the great question to be decided on October 20. A matter of so vital importance to the state certainly demands the deepest and sanest thought of every individual. Then let us all have the betterment of our country at heart, think seriously and get the real facts of the question before we vote.

Here is a fact which is a good one to begin our reasoning on: Look back over the history of mankind from the earliest ages down to the present and we find a steady growth of that spirit which gives better protection to the weak by the self-denial and sacrifice of the strong. Indeed we view this as an indication of the height of civilization to which such a people have attained. This advance is still going on and must continue till, I suppose, the "millennium" has been reached. It is surely futile to think of trying to stop it. We may retard its progress while we are trying to satisfy our selfish desires, but we cannot change the plan of the universe. Temperance sentiment which has grown so strong is one phase of this progress and it is expressed on a very large part of this continent in the form of prohibition laws. Therefore we must conclude that this form of law best meets the aims of an advancing people.

Retarding Progress
If we should try another law, especially one that has been tried and found a failure, we are simply retarding our progress to that extent and of course also we must pay the penalty of our mistake.

We have tried a certain measure of prohibition and with wonderfully good results, but we see that other legislation is necessary in order that it may have a fair trial. Therefore the only logical thing to do is to vote for our present law once again and then demand the legislation which is needed to make our law effective.

Moderationists Sincere.
No doubt a large proportion of Moderationists are sincere in their own minds that Government sale is in the best interests of the people; even though they are working hand in hand with the liquor interests and the boot-logger. But surely it is good reasoning to assume that there will be much more indifference and dissipation under a law that allows liquor to be sold in any quantity and to anyone over the age of 21, than there would be under a law that allows only 8 ounces and that only by a certified prescription.

For the Boys
Any parents who have boys in the "teen age" would surely be more uneasy when their boy was down town with his chums knowing that any one of them may lawfully have a little on him for social purposes than they would even under our old prohibition law.

So let us think seriously and vote to retain our present amended law on the 20th and then by having this law still in force we will be in a position to take advantage of the pledge of our government which will enable us to secure the needed legislation.

INDIANS BREAK EVEN WITH INTERMEDIATES
Both Sunday's and Yesterday's Games Were Well Played and Interesting.
The Intermediate All-Stars were successful in defeating the Port Simpsons at baseball on Sunday by a 6-2 score, but yesterday the natives came back and turned the tables by 6-4. Both games were interesting and watched by a good number of fans.

The batteries on Sunday were Green, Astori and Curtis, while yesterday Port Simpson had Green and Abbott with the Intermediates playing Handenschield and Butler, Hatchford and Laborte were the umpires.
