PROTEST AT MARINE WORK GOING SOUTH

Board of Trade Takes up Matter of Repairs to Marfish and Will Wire W. A. Found.

At the Board of Trade meeting held yesterday afternoon, President Parker in the chair, it was decided to make an emphatic protest against the fisheries boat Marfish being sent to a southern port for repairs. The matter will be taken up with Mr. Found at Ottawa, and he will be asked to have the work done here.

The matter was introduced by D. Thomson who said that there was about $5,000 worth of work to be done on the vessel. She was a Number 2 District boat and he thought the work should be done here. When Mr. Found was here he had gone over the work with the engineer and had left word that the work was to be done here just as soon as the fishing season was over. Apparently this order had been changed. He was now told by Mr. Williams that the boat was to be laid up at New Westminster and the repairs would be done in the south.

Mr. Ballantyne's word.

It was reported that Mr. Ballantyne had said work on boats used in the district would be done here.

G. W. Nickerson said that he had personally written to Mr. Ballantyne in regard to the work coming here and Col. Peck also had written but no answer had yet been received. That was ten days ago and there was hardly time to get a reply.

It was further reported at the meeting that the Givenchy, with Inspector Cunningham aboard, was coming within six hours' run of Prince Rupert but instead of coming here the local boat was being sent south to take off the Prince Rupert supplies.

Wiring Dangerous.

C. B. Kormby of the firm of Pattinson & Ling said his firm had been asked to look over the electrical work on the boat. They found the wiring in a very dangerous condition and had reported there was a serious fire risk. The boat had been used in that condition for three months since. Some fire extinguishers which had been purchased for her from below could have been secured from several firms in this city, and at prices the same as those paid in Vancouver.

After some further discussion it was decided to telegraph Mr. Found asking that the work on the boat be done here.

pleasant manner. Annabel Lee, the pretty heroine, played by Miss Clark, is a country girl whose mother has paid for her art training by considerable sacrifice. Annabel is informed by a noted painter that her talent is infinitesimal and is feeling pretty blue when a bored young millionaire, attracted by her unaffected clothes and ingenuous manner, strikes up an acquaintance with her. The pretty love story that follows, with its rather startling ending, is said to furnish a thoroughly entertaining comedy picture in Miss Clark's best manner.

NOTED IRISH WRITER DIES

Dr. Miller Maguire was a Brother of J. F. Maguire of This City

Word has been received by J. F. Maguire of this city of the death of his brother, Miller Maguire, LL.B., F.R.S.S., barrister and editorial writer for the Morning Post and Irish Times.

Daily Graphic

Speaking of him the Daily Graphic says:

"If battles are really won in the class-room, not a little of our victory is due to Dr. Miller Maguire, whose funeral took place yesterday. For thirty years he was one of the best known Army examiners in Europe. It was he who taught Haig, Allenby and Rawlinson, and his works got him the Order of the Rising Sun from the Mikado. An indefatigable Irishman—he once wrote a book on Russia in three days—he looked like Bismarck, but had the redeeming quality of humor, and the members of 'Coger's' debating society will miss his genial lectures. His daughter Mary, who married Joseph Schindler, the cellist, is a singer and one of the most beautiful women in Ireland."

The Glasgow Herald says:

"Dr. Miller Maguire's death removes a brilliant Irishman who was a discerning authority in military matters. In his Army coaching days he grounded in strategy such men as Allenby, Byng, Plumer, Rawlinson, Smith-Dorrien and Gough, all doughty fighters whose achievements in the great war the best evidence of the soundness of Dr. Maguire's methods. He was one of the few men with the Army tradition who foresaw the war with Germany, and who when it came realized that only national sacrifice on a great scale would bring victory. He wielded a trenchant pen up to the last, and in his day was a powerful political controversialist whose speeches were tinged with Celtic fire. At the old Queen's College, Galway, Dr. Maguire was a contemporary of Frank Hugh O'Donnell and T. P. O'Connor. He was an intimate of Lord Roberts and Lord Wolseley, who had a high opinion of the versatile Irishman."
