MORE BUILDING THIS OCTOBER THAN THERE WAS JUST A YEAR AGO

Building permits for the month of October totalled $17,200 and although the building inspector's office was considered a quiet place last month—the permits taken out for that period exceeded the totals for the past four years. All the building in this total was done in the city proper for waterfront buildings for the months amounted to practically nothing.

The totals for the same month in other years for comparison are—1919, $12,770; 1918, $8,400, and 1917, $650.

T. H. Johnson has taken out the building permit for his $8,000 brick and tile residence on Fourth Avenue East.

McGEE GOT HIS BEER LICENSE

Got Council Last Night When Opposing Voice was Absent and Acting Mayor Favors.

Fred McGee, who has applied to the city council four times for a beverage license, was at last successful last night in getting it. W. E. Williams appeared on his behalf and in a short address to the council intimated that it was incumbent on them to grant the license or it might be obtained by mandamus proceedings.

It was moved by Ald. Perry and seconded by Ald. Murray that the license be granted and this action was immediately opposed by Ald. Rochester. There were too many licenses in that vicinity already and he was doubtful as to the lease. Ald. McLennan supported Ald. Rochester's views but the vote was in favor of McGee and the council, in Ald. Kerr's absence, voted to a tie. Acting Mayor Dybbavn casting in favor of the granting of the application.

Ald. Dybbavn was in favor of the granting from the first and Ald. Kerr, who was absent, has been opposed to it. In favoring the granting Acting Mayor Dybbavn intimated he was not afraid of Mr. Williams' threatened action.

WIFE CALLS UPON GREEN-EYED DEVIL

Serious Complications in 'Tangled Threads,' When Trick is Tried On Jazzing Husband.

Bessie Barriscale, the captivating blonde star, has a sympathetic role in her latest production, "Tangled Threads," at the Empress tonight. The story is a society drama of daring conception and ingenuity.

When Margaret Wayne (Bessie Barriscale) realized that her husband, John Rutherford, had become addicted to the habit of "stepping out" five or six nights a week, she came to the conclusion that he needed to be impressed with the charms of the wife he was neglecting. In order to make him jealous, she pretends a desperate affair with one of those handsome bachelor "friends of the family."

But Margaret overplays her hand. The young wife's accomplice refused to admit that it was a put-up job when the husband discovers them together in the "friend's" apartment late at night and the husband secured a divorce. When her ex-husband married a fascinating foreign lady of easy virtue and was given the custody of their child, Margaret felt that fate had dealt unkindly with her.

The "friend" however discovered he had a conscience and took a very original and dramatic method of removing the lady of easy virtue from John's sphere, although it was fatal both to himself and the second wife, but it resulted in a sensational climax to a complicated situation.

NEXT SUMMER UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WILL PUT IN LIGHT

Buoy Now Going on Perilous Vanderbilt Reef and Beacon Will Be Placed Next Year.

The United States hydrographic survey steamer Cedar is installing a buoy on Vanderbilt Reef where two years ago the Princess Sophia sank with all her passengers and crew. Next summer a beacon light will be installed on the reef.

The news will come with gratification to all mariners and the travelling public. Ever since the Sophia catastrophe there has been strong agitation for the putting in of the light and the dilatoriness of the United States government in promoting safety of passengers and shipping in its waters has been often bitterly condemned.

H. A. Beck, a well known resident of the Bulkley Valley, has succeeded A. J. Prudhomme as manager of the Northern Interior Co-operative Association. We Heard Two Objections

To the hot cake recipe the lady said there was too much baking powder. The other objection there was not enough flour. In any recipe it is very important matter of individual taste. Some folks like their hot cakes very light and some like them another way. The basis of the recipe is right and you can vary the flour or baking powder to suit your requirements.
