Harding Elected President of U. S.

Harding is elected president of the United States. It seemed like a sure thing, even before the election but elections often bring surprises. No one can be sure what the electors will do. This time they have fulfilled the prophecies and have chosen a Republican instead of a Democrat.

What effect, if any, the change will have on Canada is not clear. It is the end of any idea of reciprocity for the time being, and may mean the erection of higher tariffs against this country. There is nothing for us to worry about, however, for Canada is every year becoming more self-contained and is learning to depend on herself for production of goods which she uses.

Bowser Still Rules the Party.

At the Conservative convention last night it was announced that the local Conservative Association was instructed to select a candidate to run in this constituency. Accordingly those present proceeded to choose delegates, but did not instruct them for whom they should vote.

It seems curious that a group of men who are always looked upon as intelligent and many of whom are successful business men should be willing to take instructions from W. J. Bowser. As a matter of fact Mr. Bowser still rules the party as he formerly did. He is the little czar still. He sends out his orders and his henchmen do his will. Even though these men know that the municipality is served better by Mr. Pattullo than it could be by any opposition member or by any member that the Conservatives could elect, because Bowser says so, a candidate has to be chosen.

Good Men Among Delegates Chosen.

Among the delegates chosen there are some excellent men and if they are left to themselves without interference they should be able to do the right thing. The difficulty about politics is that people do things for expediency rather than because it is best for the province or the district.

If we were very religious we should pray that the delegates might see the light, that the party scales might drop from their eyes and they might recognize the desirability of refusing to act at the behest of Bowser or any of his myrmidons but place the interest of the district before party and support the Liberal nominee. Not believing in the efficacy of prayer in a case like this, we can only hope that the party will choose a man who will uphold the traditions of the great party and will not drag it in the mire by backing any man just on the forlorn hope of downing the man who really has the interest of the district at heart.

PRINCE RUPERT TIDES

Wednesday, November 3.

High, 7:9 a.m., 18.1 feet. 19:8 p.m., 17.9 feet. Low, 0:28 a.m., 5.3 feet. 12:57 p.m., 9.2 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

TAX BURDEN IS CRUSHING

London Municipal Society Discussed Matter Yesterday, Lord Hamilton Presiding

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A meeting was held yesterday of the London Municipal Society, presided over by Lord George Hamilton, for the purpose of considering the whole matter of municipal taxation. It was pointed out that the rates in every municipality in the country were tending to become oppressive. New social legislation was responsible for this. Every time the rates increased, the cost of living went up just that much.

In London boroughs where there are labor majorities the advances have been very large during the last year. The following is a list of some of those which have made unusually large increases:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Increase per cent. Southwark (average) 73, Islington 72, Deptford 63, Woolwich 63, Bethnal Green 62, Stepney (average) 56, Greenwich 56, Shoreditch 52, Battersea 52, Hackney 50, Fulham 49, Camberwell 45, Poplar 41.

BOYS WERE BEFORE JUDGE YOUNG AND ONE WAS REMANDED

Steve Wintonack and his small clam appeared before Judge Young yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the theft charges preferred against them of breaking into the tobacco shop at the dry dock. The young lad was released on suspended sentence and his share of the stolen money, $13.75, was returned by the parents. The judge remarked that the small boy, evidently, has been under the older one's influence.

Young Wintonack was remanded until tomorrow to allow the judge to confer with his father, who resides here. The boy is said to be incorrigible and to have been in trouble before. The boots he was wearing when arrested by City Warden Bailey were bought with the stolen money. He says he has money coming from the dry dock company and will repay what he stole when he gets it.
