

Sunlight Soap

She Rests while Sunlight Works

Why not? That's what Sunlight's for. How does this happen? Very simple. Sunlight's gentle purity is alone sufficient to cleanse the clothes without wearisome rubbing. Of course, this is easy on the clothes, too. How is it done? Just read the directions.

SHIPYARD MEN HAVE MEETING

Situation Thoroughly Gone Into But Little New is Brought Out.

ASKING OTTAWA WHAT IS REASONABLE PERIOD

A second meeting of the local shipyard workers was held yesterday afternoon in the McIntyre hall and the situation thoroughly gone into again. There was nothing new uncovered with the exception of the telegram received by President Parker of the Board of Trade which was furnished to the meeting by the Daily News and was read. This telegram appeared in full in yesterday's papers.

Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed at the use of the term "reasonable period" in the telegram and after a thorough discussion a committee consisting of Messrs. Ellis, Panthorpe, Blundell, Smith, Dickens, Kenyon, Hammond and Burroughs, was named to draft a telegram to the minister asking him to define what was meant by the phrase in question. The urgent need and, in some cases, distress brought about by the sudden suspension of work and pay was given as a strong reason for the insistence of the demands.

Pattullo Speaks.

Mr. Pattullo appeared in response to a request by one of the committee appointed on Monday. He answered a number of questions satisfactorily but could throw little further light on the situation. From a legal standpoint he considered that the failure of the company to pay wages for a number of weeks was defaulting on the contract, and had wired the minister that there must be something wrong with the contract if that was not so. He suggested that the meeting draft a resolution to be wired to Ottawa urging the need of immediate attention and relief for the employees, and that if a copy of the same were given to him he would be glad to supplement it by a wire of his own. Col. Peck should also receive a copy of the same telegram and he would doubtless take similar action.

In regard to the reference to "sufficient funds" in the published telegram received from the minister by the Board of Trade, it apparently referred to the funds voted by the government for carrying on the building of ships, of which, from the telegram, there was apparently a surplus still in hand. If there was not enough the government had the power to draw a special warrant for the deficit.

After Mr. Pattullo had left his suggestion of giving copies of the telegram to himself and Col. Peck was approved and the committee so instructed.

A motion was carried that no legal steps be taken until the government had been tried out. The meeting then adjourned to the call of the committee.

LONDON, Nov. 3. — In the Scotch vote on the liquor question out of 48 areas 14 have voted no change, while three have gone in favor of prohibition.

BIG BAZAAR IS NOW ON

Catholic People Think It Will be Greater Success Than Last Year.

The annual Catholic Bazaar in aid of the Annunciation School was formally opened last night but really was not in full swing until this afternoon. Now the St. Andrew's Hall where it is being held proves an attraction for many and, indeed, it is a meritorious one for there are all manner of dainty things there to look at and to buy and the place is most pleasing in appearance.

Last year's bazaar was a splendid and successful affair but this year's is likely to eclipse it. At least that is what those in charge hope and think it will do. Probably the greatest attraction of all is the country store presided over by Mrs. G. W. Nickerson. It is certainly rustic in appearance but the things for sale there are all but that. Assisting Mrs. Nickerson here are Misses Gleason, Barbeau and Margaret Allen.

Many Attractions.

Besides this there are plenty of other attractions and the raffles are not the least of them. There are a lot of splendid prizes and each department is being well patronized.

The fancy article booth is in charge of Mrs. J. Lorne McLaren who is assisted by Mrs. Curtin, Mrs. J. C. Gavigan and Mrs. M. P. McCaffery. Mrs. Gratton presides over the candy tables assisted by Mrs. M. J. McNeill, Mrs. Pitts and Mrs. Griffiths. The Knights of Columbus but which is being run by Jack Venables, J. J. Muldoon and A. Astori has also lots of novel things to offer. The tea rooms, that necessary adjunct of all bazaars, is in the capable hands of Mrs. A. D. Gillies and her helpers are Mrs. Martin O'Reilly, F. W. Moersch and D. H. McDonald. Mrs. Jas. McNulty assisted by Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. Shane were in charge of the sale of tickets. There are many others who are assisting in making the big annual event a success, but their names are too numerous to mention.

Father McGrath There.

Father McGrath declared the bazaar formally open in a brief speech last night and is helping in no small manner in the general conduct of affairs. His genial manner and fine organizing ability are well known and well appreciated.

This afternoon the children of the Annunciation School are presenting a program and tonight there will be the dance. Many people remember how they enjoyed last year's and are looking forward to tonight's.
