DAILY EDITION.

Wednesday, Dec. 1, 1920.

Election is Now Almost Over.

If there is any candidate who has not yet voted, there is time to do so up to seven o'clock, when the polls close sharp. The results will be announced in the Empress Theatre, which has been taken for the evening for that purpose.

The results should begin to come in about 7:30, and the first returns from the local count will be thrown on the screen about that time, giving the first indication to the public how things are going locally.

The meetings last night have made the Pattullo supporters more confident than ever that their candidate will win and that by a substantial majority.

Good Humor Has Prevailed Throughout.

A feature of the campaign which has been most pleasing has been the unfeeling good humor which has prevailed throughout, and the lack of bitterness in any of the political attacks which have been made. Political fights are often stern affairs and much heat is sometimes generated without any apparent reason. This time there has been a clean fight and there are none of those bad flavors left, which often follow an election. The brown taste in the mouth is one of the worst features of the morning after a political debauch.

Readers of News Will Welcome Change.

The readers of the Daily News will welcome a change in the subject matter of the paper, following the close of the election. For several weeks election news has of necessity crowded other matters almost into a corner. To such an extent has this been done that there have been some protests from readers.

The Daily News has no apologies to make for giving so much space to the political campaign. The Government of the country is so important that it must of necessity overshadow everything else. Even the telegraphic news has been as political in its tone as local. Newspaper men everywhere recognize the importance of governmental affairs and consequently give much space to them.

Election times are periods for propaganda. The Socialists capitalize this to an even larger extent than others. They do not usually expect to win but they use this opportunity to conduct an educative campaign as to their peculiar tenets.

Drydock Settlement Cause for Congratulation.

The announcement made last night that the drydock and shipyard would be working again soon and that all wages would be paid immediately, was the best news Prince Rupert people have heard for some time. Many had become pessimistic over the outlook, and it must be admitted there was cause for worry. Now the prospect is much brighter for a resumption of work and a general improvement of business in the city.

It is to be hoped that the freight rates will be so adjusted by the Railway Commission at its sitting this month, that the local mills may reopen early in the spring and continue regular shipments and that an assembly wharf for lumber may be built here. The building of the dock and the new government buildings here will provide employment for a good many and the addition to the government dock and other work around the city should help to keep everything moving.

PRINCE RUPERT TIDES

Wednesday, December 1

High, 5:43 a.m., 19.7 ft.
 17:36 p.m., 19.1 ft.

Low, 11:28 a.m., 8.0 ft.

Thursday, December 2

High, 6:13 a.m., 19.5 ft.
 18:50 p.m., 18 feet

Low, 0:2 a.m., 5 feet.
 12:42 p.m., 8.2 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

FISH ARRIVALS WERE VERY BIG

More than Twice as Much Fish This November as Last Year

Halibut returns recorded on the Prince Rupert waterfront for the month of November show a great increase over the same month in 1919. There were 2,270,000 pounds landed during the month as against 1,000,500 pounds in the month last year.

There were many big schooners calling in Prince Rupert harbor during November and finding market conditions much better than usual the most of them discharged their catches, satisfied with the prices offered at the sales in the Fish Exchange. Indeed, the price amounted to a very high figure about the middle of the month, the highest on record, 23c, being then paid.

Towards the end of the month there were a great number of big schooners in and the law of supply and demand made the price drop considerably. The price was very fluctuating, one day the low level of 10.1c and 5c being reached. There were 331,000 pounds which went south.

The prospects for December are quite normal. It is not generally a big month for fish arrivals, but there are a number of the big schooners out now and they should be back in port in a fortnight or three weeks. Many of the big boats will spend Christmas in Prince Rupert, while some will go to Seattle where the fishermen have their homes.

Telling it to the Judge

From Literary Digest "Topics of the Day."

His Honor hears many and tales of woe in court, but now and then some humor "springs up" to relieve the monotony of serious routine. Such occasional outbursts of funny comment attract smiles even from those people who have to "tell it to the judge." In theatres throughout the country audiences have enthused over the witty wordings about judges and their cases presented on the motion picture screen in "Topics of the Day" films. The following pungent paragraphs are on trial: "Well, well, that's a frightful case. What made you marry 14 wives?" asked the judge.

"Well, your honor, I didn't like the number 13."—Jefferson (Texas) News.

Judge: "Where did the automobile hit you?"

Rastus: "Well, judge, if I'd been carrying a license number it would have been busted into a thousand pieces."—Schenectady (N.Y.) Union-Star.

"Officer, what is the prisoner charged with?" asked the judge.

Cop: "Mostly soda water, sir."—Boston Record.

Prosecuting Attorney to opponent: "You're the biggest boob in the city."

Judge, rapping for order: "Gentlemen, you forget I'm here."—Syracuse Herald.

Magistrate: "But your wife says you haven't spoken a word to her for over a year."

Police prisoner: "No, your worship, I didn't want to interrupt her."—Pearson's Weekly.

"Repeat the words the defendant used," said the lawyer.

"I'd rather not. They were not fit words to tell a gentleman."

"Then," said the attorney, "whisper them to the judge."—Progressive Farmer.

To new maid: "This is my son's room. He's in Yale."

"Ya? My brudder ban there too."

"What year?"

"No year. Da judge yust say 'You Axel, 60 days in Jail.'"

WATER NOTICE.

DIVERSION AND USE.

TAKE NOTICE that P. W. Hacey, agent for the Moose Group Mining syndicate, whose address is Alice Arm, B. C., will apply for a licence to take and use one-quarter of a cubic foot per second of water out of Moose Creek, which flows southerly and drains into Trout Creek about at its junction with the Kitsault River. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 2,000 feet north of the Trout Creek falls at a point on the Moose No. 6 Mineral Claim, and will be used for domestic purposes upon the mine described as the Moose Group.

This notice is posted on the ground on the 14th day of September, 1920. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert, B. C.

Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper.

THE MOOSE GROUP MINING SYNDICATE, Applicant.

By P. W. Hacey, Agent.

The date of the first publication of this notice is November 15, 1920.
