Winston Churchill
On Rebellious Movement.

Exception has been taken to a report of the speech of Right Hon. Winston Churchill published in the Daily News Saturday. It was an attack on the revolutionary movement which is going on in England particularly, but also to some extent in other countries. We do not think the statements made by him were wholly true and yet there was in them undoubtedly a measure of truth. He said the present bad condition of Russia was wholly due to the Bolshevik tyranny. We think it is due very largely to the monarchical tyranny which preceded the Bolshevik rebellion and made that rebellion possible. If there had been in Russia a democratic government such as that in England or Canada there would have been no Bolshevik rule today.

Objection to Publishing Article as News.

As to the objection to publishing the article as news, the fact that a protest was made shows that it was interesting. The speech excited considerable comment here as well as in Britain. Churchill is the leader of a very large body of the British public that has no sympathy whatever with the Bolshevik movement. They have just as much right to be heard as have the other sections of the public. The Daily News looks on the considered declaration of any public man or leader of a section of the public as news. The people are interested in such speeches. The fact that there is a little group of people that does not like it, is no reason for holding it back. An attack such as he made shows that he is a man of great courage or he would not have made it. He intimated that an overturn of the present conditions suddenly could not be brought about without much bloodshed, something which it is well for everyone to understand, and something which has been mentioned often by revolutionary leaders. Those who object to Churchill's attitude know well that on the other side leaders of a section of the working men are urging that there must be a rule of the proletariat in which the rest of the people will take no part. They suggest following the Lenin example, which is the most pernicious doctrine anyone can preach, and one with which the mass of the people has no sympathy.

Today We Have Real Democracy.

Today we have a real democracy, a rule by the majority of the people. It is necessary only to glance over the recent provincial results to see where the mass of the people stand. The people of Canada are sane as ever they were. They have been somewhat disturbed by the awful war and there have been free expressions of opinion on matters of government. The European disturbance has given opportunity for unscrupulous people to make immense war profits, something which is generally deplored and which must be stopped in future.

In Prince Rupert constituency the revolutionary Socialists managed to muster scarcely four hundred votes, and some of those were given because the candidate was a working man and not because he was a Socialist who believed in a total change in the form of government. A similar condition existed in every constituency. In Victoria the Socialist candidates did not poll as large a vote as did Socialists ten or twelve years ago. Even in Comox where there are hundreds of coal miners living, the Socialist did not get more than a small fraction of the total vote.

The people choose their own lawmakers and administrators and that is true democracy.

Condition in Britain Not as Bad as It Looks.

In conversation with a man who has just returned from a lengthy visit to England, it was learned that the people of that country do not take seriously the vaporings of the extreme radical leaders. They say the average man treats them with good humor and contempt.

In another column we publish a report of an Albert Hall meeting in London, in which extreme revolutionary sentiments were expressed. Threats of violence were made and it is a wonder that the men who made them were not placed under arrest. They certainly would have been punished in this country.

There was a threat to hang Churchill to a lamp-post which should not have been allowed to pass. There can be no democratic government, when one section of the people threaten violence on the other. Under the British constitution the recourse is to get a majority of the people to support a cause and any organized group can then make any changes they wish constitutionally.

The Daily News is absolutely against any action or any propaganda which would lead to violence in this country. If the local revolutionary socialists are in sympathy with C. L. Malone or Robert Williams as reported in the London Times, then this paper is against them. If they are in sympathy with the methods used by Lenin and his crowd by which a large section of the people are disfranchised, and deprived of their civil rights, we are opposed to them. We believe in democracy as the only solution of the ills of the body politic.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. PILE DRIVING IN ABOUT A WEEK

Says S. S. Magoffin in Speaking of the New Ocean Wharf

Pile driving at the new salmon dock will commence in about a week, according to a statement made to the News by S. S. Magoffin of the firm of Grant, Smith & Magoffin, who have the big job. Pile driving will follow close up on the filling, which has been going on for some months and will continue for two months longer. This means that the pile driving will be done in a very short time after Grant & McDonald get through with their filling contract.

A dredge has been at the wharf site during the past week overhauling the sand to the level above tide mark. The big pile-driver for the dock is rapidly being completed.
