LIVING COSTS IN ENGLAND

Prices Continue Very High There, although Recent Reports Indicate Relief in Sight

Manchester, Nov. 3.—Prices remain high here and while there are indications of relief it has had little effect so far. A home laid egg is now worth 14 cents and may go even higher, and cooking eggs seven cents each. Before the war fifty per cent of the egg supply came from Russia, but that is now cut off. The Guardian says:

"According to the wholesale reports, tea and coffee are falling in price, but the reaction in the shops is only partial. The better kinds of tea still command a steady sale at the worst kind of price, but the great increase in imports lately has had its effect on the inferior qualities, which can be bought cheap. If people persist in paying more for tea than they need, that is their own fault; the fact is that there is plenty of cheap tea to be had. The average price of Indian tea per pound wholesale has gone down from 1s. 2½d. on April 30 to 10½d. on October 12. Coffee seems to remain steady—in the shops. In the wholesale market Costa Rica coffee has declined from 165s. to 122s. 6d. between the dates given above.

Sugar and Jam

At the moment the most notable food in which there has been a drop in price, wholesale and retail, is sugar. Three of four months the Sugar Commission reduced its charge to the manufacturers from 169s. a cwt. to 112s. It is understood that the Commission had underestimated the amount of sugar available. Consequently jams and confectionery have dropped in price recently in most parts of London. A famous West End shop gives you strawberry jam at a shilling a pound, against 1s. 11d. or so a short time ago. The retail price is expected to come down in the next few weeks. Until recently the Government supplied grocers with rationed sugar at considerably lower price than what was charged to the manufacturer. The price of both to retailers and manufacturers has now been equalized at 112s., and as supplies are likely to improve still more there ought to be a further improvement for the housewife before long.

Boots and Clothes.

A glance round the boot shops in the Strand is sufficient proof that supply is leaving demand behind—at the old prices. In Fleet Street a big shop is selling good boots at anything from 14s. 6d. to 25s. Another shop does huge business in guinea boots. A few months ago it was hardly possible to buy a pair of leather boots with a month's wear in them for less than £2. The manufacturers have huge stocks on hand, and the Government has in the last few months unloaded many thousands of fine heavy army boots to the shops.

As to clothing, the London shop windows show a substantial drop since the early part of the year.

People will no longer pay sixteen guineas for a suit, even in Bond Street. Suits which cost that figure a few months ago can now be bought for about twelve. A big tailoring firm in the city is selling suits made from good cloth at five guineas and doing enormous business. The war of prices among the Strand tailors has had a wholesome effect. The market report says that the wholesale clothiers have very heavy stocks in hand. The London tailors are loaded up with cloths and do not want any more. The natural result of bigger supplies and greater caution on the part of the buyers is a cheaper suit.

"Luxury" Articles.

A significant trifle is the slump in high-priced talking machines. The soldiers acquired the gramophone habit at the front, and since the peace there has been a steady demand for these articles at prices such as would have seemed fantastic before the war. Many people have no longer money for such luxuries, and the companies that make them are adapting themselves to the fact.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL COUPLE WERE WED

Miss Susan Reid, Becomes Bride of Robert Reid, Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant Officiating.

A quiet but interesting wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Reid, Steele Block, last evening at 9 o'clock when their daughter Susan was united in marriage to Robert Reid, Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant officiating.

The bride looked charming in her travelling suit of brown with velvet hat to match. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Her sister, Miss Mary Reid, was the bridesmaid and George Abbott supported the groom. The gift of the groom to the bridesmaid was an onyx ring.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, there being present only a few immediate friends of the bride and groom.

Dr. Grant proposed the toast which was suitably responded to by the groom. Escorted to the steamer by a host of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Reid left on the Prince George for Vancouver, where they will spend a brief honeymoon, returning in a few weeks and taking up their residence in the Smith Block.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reid are well known here and have resided in the city for years. The bride was a valued member of the municipal telephone exchange and is very popular among the younger set. The groom, who has been connected with the Westholme Lumber Co. and Albert & McCaffery for ten years or more, served overseas for a long time, having left the city with one of the first contingents. He is also popular and the best wishes of many friends will be extended to both him and Mrs. Reid on this occasion.

FEATHER PILLOWS

Your sheets are rarely used longer than a week, and you make the change of your bed linen so as to be clean and thereby healthy. Did it ever occur to you that your "feather pillows" while they are invariably encased in a pillow case, also become soiled, unclean, unsanitary, and possibly unhealthy from use?

We wash and sterilize your Feather Pillows in a neutral soap, drying them in our new Rotary Tumbler at a temperature of 245 degrees Fahrenheit, leaving each and every feather light and fluffy, just the way you would have them. The cost is 75 cents each, with our guarantee, i.e.—it's to your satisfaction or no charge is made.

Give us one this week and compare it with its mate when returned.
