BRINGING UP FATHER

LABOR AND THE METHODIST CHURCH ARE DISCUSSED AT OPEN FORUM BY LOCAL MEN

with the most recent conference (two years ago in Hamilton where a social program had been outlined as follows:

Social Program.
1. We declare all special privilege, not based on useful service to the community, to be a violation of the principle of justice, which is the foundation of democracy.

2. We declare that forms of industrial organization should be developed which call labor to a voice in the management and a share in the profits and risks of business. All forms of autocratic organization of business should be discouraged. We call attention to the remarkable and unchallenged success of the co-operative stores, factories, and steamship lines of England and Scotland, as great examples of democracy in industry.

3. We declare it to be un-Christian to accept profits when laborers do not receive a living wage, or when capital receives disproportionate returns as compared with labor.

4. We recommend Old Age Insurance on a national scale, in which the annuity paid shall be based upon the average earnings of the country, each year of a man's effective life. This would protect all citizens from the fear of penury in old age, and at the same time would make every citizen directly interested in both the prosperity of every business in the country and the good health and industry of every fellow citizen.

5. We condemn speculation in land, grain, food-stuffs, and natural resources, as well as the frequent capture of unearned wealth through the over-capitalization of commercial enterprises. We place the principle of the Golden Rule before the man who seeks wealth by investment, and then endeavors to escape impending loss by unloading upon others. These are dangerous forms of economic injustice in which we cannot engage without sin. Is there not in our Church a wide-spread call for repentance and confession of sin in this regard?

6. As the people are virtual partners in every business enterprise, we condemn that profiteering which takes out of them profits not justified by the value or cost of the service rendered. We recommend the enactment of legislation which shall secure to labor a fair wage adequate to a proper standard of living, to the business a fair profit adequate for its continuance, and to the public all returns in excess of these.

7. We are in favor of the nationalization of our natural resources, such as mines, water-powers, fisheries, forests, the means of communication and transportation, and public utilities on which all the people depend.

8. We call attention to the closed or company town as a menace to democracy, in that the citizens are in danger of being robbed of freedom of political action, and of power to demand proper sanitary, educational and social conditions for themselves

9. As followers of the Carpenter of Nazareth, we sympathetically seek to understand the problems of life as they confront the classes of labor in Canada, and thus rightly estimate the pleas they make for justice, and find in them allies in the struggle to realize the ends of fair play, humanity and brotherhood.

10. The Church has a message to all classes of people. All citizens in the ranks of employees, on account of living in a Christian land and being endowed with its free citizenship, are under obligation to do faithfully the work for which they take the wage, to treat no engagement as a "scrap of paper," and to carry a brother's heart toward all their fellow-citizens. "Speak every man truth with his neighbor, for ye are members one of another," wrote St. Paul. For the same reason all the virtues are called for. Thus the facts of life, as found in our human relations, carry with them a divine sanction, and demand of all alike the observance of the great commandments of the law, and the new commandment which Christ has given us.

Remarkable Vitality.
A lot of people seemed to think the church was a dying institution, continued the speaker, but for a dying institution the Methodist church showed remarkable vitality. It had a membership of 490,000 which was increasing rapidly. During the past year they had raised eight million dollars.

As one who believed in the cause of labor, Mr. Nuttall said he thought they might get together. Labor would be stronger if allied with the church and the church would be stronger if allied with labor. The church was not an economic organization but moral and spiritual. He asked that they be judged by their highest and not their lowest product.

Not Carry Forward.
Waiter Shaw spoke of the resemblance of the church and labor movements in their method of developing mental intoxication. While the idea of co-operation seemed good, it did not carry forward and little practical development would result.

J. H. Burroughs did not agree with any reform program. These programs did not benefit the workers, who still remained wage-workers and sold their labor for just sufficient to enable them to live. Reforms reacted to the advantage of the employing class, the one dominant class. Domination of the superior over the inferior continued.

Several others spoke, some of whom were opposed to Christianity or the church. One man said the speaker did not recognize the anti-religious aspect of the Socialist party. In the gospels they could find no organization started to benefit the workers. All Christ taught was a new kingdom in the world to come. He quoted "Servants, obey your masters," "Blessed are the meek," and "Wives obey your husbands," the last being suggested by Mrs. Booth, the chairman of the meeting. He would have had more respect for the reverend gentleman if he kept to the church. They could get all they needed in the Socialist party and did not need the church.

Superstition.
Charles Lemon wanted to know if the church believed in superstition yet. Mr. Nuttall said he believed the world was created by an all-wise and just being.

Mr. Lemon said he did not believe in the supernatural or superstition or reform in any form or manner.

One speaker said the workers were entitled to all they created. "The world for the workers, and nothing short of that," would satisfy them.
