WHY CHANGE
YOUR WIFE?Great Picture Story Filmed at the Westholme Tonight.

The latest Cecil B. DeMille production, "Why Change Your Wife?" coming to the Westholme Theatre tonight, is thoroughly up-to-date. Even prohibition has not been forgotten by the famous producer in filming this striking story of married life. The husband, played by Thomas Meighan, not only has a full supply of private stock in his cellar; he has even constructed a rathskeller down there. This is one of the points about which he clashes with Gloria Swanson, in the role of the wife. While she does not object to wine in the house, she maintains that a private rathskeller is carrying matters a bit too far. Their clashes grow more and more frequent, until finally the husband seeks succor in the charms of a siren, and troubles start.

Cecil B. DeMille has produced this picture with all the lavishness of detail and rare beauty that characterized "Male and Female." William DeMille furnished the story, which was adapted to the screen by Olga Printzlau and Sada Cowan.

JIMMY VALENTINE
EMPRESS THEATRE

"Jimmy Valentine" is the offering for tonight at the Empress. As may be recalled, Jimmy Valentine is a prisoner in Sing Sing on a charge of bank robbery, who has earned the enmity of the brutal warden because he always "plays the gentleman." Jimmy has the reputation of being a master cracksmen who opens safes without burglar's implements, relying upon his extremely sensitive touch to feel the slight jar of the tumblers in the combinations of safes. What followed—the effect of Jimmy's reputation and the possession of this odd skill on his after life—forms one of the most thrilling, breath-catching melodramas ever written.

ALASKA FISH BUYER
WRECKED NEAR JUNEAU

S. J. Sonsthagen, local fish buyer, returned Saturday from a two months' trip to Seymour Canal, where he has been salting down herring preparatory to bringing them here for putting up in vinegar, says the Juneau Empire. On the return trip he was shipwrecked near Taku Harbor, when a sudden storm arose when his boat was laid up for the night, causing the anchor line to part and the boat to pile up on the rocky beach. Mr. Sonsthagen expects to leave tomorrow for the scene of the wreck and to salvage his boat and the portion of the cargo not spoiled.

"PARTY GOVERNMENT"

Editor Daily News—This Association has viewed with interest your timely article on the relation of party to government. There is no doubt that people are beginning to realize that the party system as existing is more autocratic than democratic. They no doubt, as you suggest, have come to the conclusion that the legal profession has too great a representation in the Government and also are now recognizing that this is due to a great extent to the fact that the first essential for a successful legal profession is the ability to talk and persuade. This power is used to advantage at election times as was seen at the last election. They are therefore the pivot of the "party system." To them come the man with the campaign fund looking for special privilege, to them come the seeker of special privilege and the lobbyist. In fact, all who want favors of any description, and this combination of smooth words, campaign fund and lobby influence enables the swaying of the electorate. You say the electorate chooses, we beg to differ and say the "party" chooses, and the party point is always emphasized by organization, ample campaign funds, and the like, and the result is a foregone conclusion, as long as the "party" itself does not take the bit in its teeth and run away with the wagon. This generally results when the "party" has been so highly organized that even the ample campaign fund of expenditure and promise cannot carry the burden imposed.

Independents a Party

You mention the Independent Political Association as being a "party." True it is a party, but with this essential difference; it is a party of protest against extravagant party promises and the use of money in the shape of campaign funds and selfish appeals to sway the true voice of the electorate. It is a protest against the professional caucus-led politician—the tool of the lobbyist and the privilege seeker.

The Independent Political Association is no more to be identified with the Conservative party, as you infer, than it is with the Liberal or Socialist party, but it is prepared to co-operate at any time with any party or association who have similar objects in view, which to sum up briefly is "Honest Government."

Such being the case, why all this turmoil about the formation of this new party? According to your statements, and presumably you are speaking for the party you support, namely the Liberal, you are in favor of the same ideals as have actuated the formation of the independent Association, so why the attempt to kill, weaken or destroy a young association because it dares to express itself.

Watches with Interest

The Liberal party is in power at the present time, elected by a minority vote it is true, but under our system elected all the same, and therefore responsible. They have the opportunity of working for the district effectively and to the point. The Independent Association is watching its course of action as applied to this district with interest. The Liberal party can rely upon the co-operation of this association at all times for good government, but

Music and Christmas
Are Inseparably Associated

MUSIC is the means that has been adopted throughout the ages for communicating the joy of the Christmas message.

The spirit of the festival is more inspiringly expressed by the music that has always accompanied it than by any other single medium.

For music reaches our innermost selves, taps a channel leading to our higher nature and brings us in tune with the Infinite.

Millions attend church at the Christmas Season because of the special Christmas Music of the organ and the choir. They are reached through music as they are reached in no other way.

Music speaks the language of the soul, but it likewise speaks the language of life—the language of the heart.

When we speak from the depths of our religious nature, we have recourse to music and we sing our praises to God.

When we are stirred by any emotion in secular life, we likewise resort to music for its expression. We sing love songs and patriotic songs. We sing songs of sadness and songs of gladness—songs of home and songs of childhood, and our nature responds and vibrates with the magic of the message brought to us.

Music transfuses joy and softens sorrow.
It should shed its blessings in every home.

they cannot expect, and certainly will not get a silent, obsequious and complacent approval of that party for any privilege given or action taken working to the detriment of the district and its citizens.

The Independent Association position can be summed up in two words, "honest government," for the good of the North. They must however take the position that neither you, or the party you presumably represent, have the right to infer directly or otherwise that this association is connected with the Conservative Association excepting as outlined herein.

F. S. WRIGHT,
Secretary, the P. R. Independent Political Association.

(The Daily News does not speak for the Liberal party nor is it against the Independent Association, as Mr. Wright suggests. We wish the new association every success, but we do not consider it more independent than the Liberal or Conservative associations except in name.—Editor.)
