BRINGING UP FATHER

HAZELTON IS SORRY SIGHT

Main Street is Mass of Ruins for Entire Block on Either Side.

HAZELTON, Dec. 31.—Ominea Street here is now a sorry looking sight down its entire length. On the north side there is a gap from the Union Bank to the drug store and on the south side from the Ominea Hotel to the Sealy residence, all is bleak ruin where a week ago stood some of Hazelton's most important business houses, which were destroyed in the fire on Christmas night. By far the heaviest losers through the recent fire will be the Lamson-Hubbard Canadian Company. This firm had a large general stock valued at $40,000 which was completely destroyed. It is understood that there was $25,000 insurance. The building was owned by W. J. Larkworthy of New Hazelton.

Second Loss.
James McKay is another heavy loser from the blaze. The Galena Club building, which he purchased a year ago and has since improved considerably, was destroyed. This marks his second loss from fire in the past few months. It was just a short time ago that his residence was completely destroyed. The valiant work of the volunteer fire fighters prevented the fire wiping out the whole town. Working all night against the terrific flames which could be seen for miles made possible the miraculous saving of the Ominea Hotel, the drug store and the residence of J. C. K. Sealy. The Methodist church was among the buildings consumed in the blaze.

ANGELICAN CHILDREN HAD CHRISTMAS TREE

Pleasing Feature of Last Night's Affair Was Presentation to H. T. Cross.

The children of the Anglican Sunday School had their annual Christmas tree, supper and entertainment last evening and there were 120 children in attendance to say nothing of the grown-ups. There was a splendid supper served, followed by a short program before Santa Claus arrived on the scene to dispense gifts. A pleasing feature of the affair was the presentation of a handsome reading lamp to H. T. Cross, who has been the superintendent of the school for five years and whose untiring devotion has met with the appreciation of both children and parents.

"IF" BY RUDYARD KIPLING

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs, and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait, and not be tired of waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream and not make dreams your master;
If you can think and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat these two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
When you've spoken, and be true to it;
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken;
And stoop and build them up with broken tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss,
And lose and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them, "Hold on";

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;

If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run—
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And which is more—you'll be a Man, my son.

This poem by Rudyard Kipling, considered by some critics one of the finest examples of his work, is but little known to the average reader. It forms a splendid subject for thought, especially on the threshold of the New Year.
