LIQUOR MAY NOT BE ADVERTISED

Nor Are Agents Allowed—Buyers Must Shift for Themselves.

Now that the war-time restrictions have been raised and Dominion prohibition became a thing of the past on the first day of January, many of the prospective buyers still wonder how they are going to import liquor. Inter-provincial liquor traffic being again permitted, some people looked for the glaring advertisements, giving address of liquor firms in Alberta and other provinces who would export liquor to British Columbia, but were disappointed. It is true that liquor may be ordered from another province and may be delivered here, but agencies or advertising of ways and means and the names of companies is forbidden by an amendment to the B. C. Prohibition Act adopted March 29 last year.

The following excerpts amending Section 52 of Chapter 49 of the B. C. Prohibition Act gives the new law regarding importation:—

"No person shall canvass for, receive, take or solicit orders for the purchase or sale of any liquor or act as agent for the purchase or sale of liquor.

"No person shall distribute, publish or display any advertisement, sign, circular, letter, poster, handbill, card or price list, naming, representing, describing or referring to any liquor, or to the quality or quantities thereof, or giving the name or address of any person manufacturing or dealing in liquors or stating where liquor may be obtained, but nothing in this section contained shall apply to the receipt, or transmission, of a telegram or letter by any telegraph agent, or operator, or post-office employee, in the ordinary course of his employment as such agent, operator or employee."

E. S. H. Winn, Chairman, Pleased With Public Attitude on Health Insurance.

E. S. H. Winn, chairman of the Health Insurance Commission, that sat here on Wednesday afternoon last, states that the work of the commission is receiving great support at all places visited. Already a large number of cities have had the sittings of the commission and it is expected to reach Vancouver on January 19. In all the places visited there has not been a single adverse note to the intention of the government in the matter of health insurance.

After the Vancouver sitting the report and recommendations of the commission will be framed on the information as to public feeling and ideas gained at the various sittings. It is expected to have this report complete towards the end of the month, to present at the next session of the legislature.

PEACE TREATY MAKES BIG ARMY REDUCTION

Nine-Tenths of German Army Must Go Before March 31.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Germany's present armed forces are estimated by the British War Office to total close to a million men. This force is divided into a regular army of 400,000 men; land forces of regularly armed navy constabulary, 40,000 to 50,000; temporary volunteers and regular reserve army, 150,000 to 200,000, and civil guards numbering between 300,000 to 400,000.

Under the terms of the Peace Treaty Germany is compelled to reduce her regular forces to 100,000 by March 31 and the number of gendarmes must not exceed the number in the police department in the year 1913.

The reduction of the regular German army in compliance with the treaty obligations is proceeding but at a slower pace than had been originally contemplated owing to the delay in the ratification of the peace treaty.
