Costly Matter to Clean Up United States.

Congress is being asked to appropriate $1,500,000 for the Department of Justice in connection with the outlay necessary to purge the country of the undesirable foreign element. This is quite a large amount to spend on housecleaning, but it will be a cheap enough insurance premium if it saves the country from Re the effects of Bolshevism. Deportation proceedings will be taken administrator of the estate of S. E. Ste. against the majority of the three thousand people arrested and it is possible that "The Soviet Ark" now awaiting orders in the English Channel with her first cargo of Reds, may have to make more than one more trip. Not only has the United States government to go to the cost of expelling these people from the country, Lot ten (10), Block sixteen (16), Section that the cost of expelling these people from the country, leight (8), Map 923, and Lot thirty-on but its Immigration Department has the job on its hands of keeping them out. From all accounts, the experience they will contest the receive under the soviet form of government which they so much desire, will make them long to return to the "Home of the Free.

Agitators Busy in Great Britain Also.

Dispatches indicate that the propaganda for the overthrow of the government and the establishment of a soviet, is being actively disseminated in Great Britain. The course of action there is similar to that followed in the United States in the permeation of existing organizations with the revolutionary ideas. Among these organizations, socialist and labor bodies are preferred as being the most fruitful soil for the growth of the pernicious dectrines. And how far the taint will spread depends upon the common sense of the individual. It does not require a made for a Certificate of Indeteasible Tit. university education to be able to perceive that the present system of government prevailing throughout the British Empire, however imperfect it may be, is the best suited to the Anglo-Saxon race.

Political Evolution Orderly and Continuous.

One feature which has marked Great Britain since 1066 as distinct from all other nations in Europe, has been the orderly progress of her political evolution. The continuity of her political history has been unmarred by any sudden upheavals from Prince Rupert, B. C., this 21st day of Nowithin or the imposition of any foreign system from without, such as the revolution in France or the tides of invasion which To Garfield S. Silcox, as to Lot 10; Archibald McKechnie, as to Lot 31. time and again swept away every vestige of stable government from the other countries in Europe. And this stability she has communicated to her daughter nations. Her people have had a better opportunity than any other race to secure that kind of TAKE NOTICE that application has been government they wished. It is not yet perfect' and although made to register Attillio Dominato of Prince Rupert, B. C., P. O. box 68, at the contract of the perfect of the pe absolute perfection is not yet considered an ideal for this world, progress has constantly been made. And the attainment of a bearing date the 23rd day of October, more perfect system of government will not be secured by violent or tract of land and premises situate, methods. Among the Anglo-Saxons, the rights of the individual come first.

Professor Porta

Still at It.

Although the 17th of December passed by safely without the "Land world coming to a sudden end, as he predicted, the nearest thing to it came to part of Mexico on January 5, when an earthquake destroyed thousands, which Professor Porta claims to have been caused by six planets being in conjunction with the sun. The pessimistic Professor has some other miseries in store for this old world from another stellar lineup in the near future. Some people are wondering whether the worst is still to come-whether a December 17th cataclysm would not be better than the old earth being quaked bit by bit. The optimists, however, think that the professor may have got the right day of the month, but he mistook the year. For there's a whole lot to be done before made for a Certificate of Indefeasible Title the end of the world. We've got to elect a new City Council first. or
