SMELTER AT PORT EDWARD CONSIDERED

Plans Being Made in Vancouver Looking to Establishment of Industry at Mouth of the Skeena.

There is a scheme being worked out in Vancouver to establish a smelter at Port Edward. Inquiries have been made here in regard to securing a site and word received from the south indicates that something is likely to come of the proposal.

Port Edward seems to be the logical place for such an industry. It is far enough away from Prince uppert not to be a nuisance. Much of the valuable timber in the neighborhood has already been cut and any that is left could easily be marketed at a good price and thus obviate any possibility for damage from owners of timber limits.

The development of the mines of the northern districts makes a smelter a genuine business proposition. The site at Port Edward would serve the water borne ore and also would be very convenient to take ore from the Hazelton and other mines up the line.

Special mention must | be made of the supper arrangements for which the ladies of the! committee worked unselfishly. The result was that the supper! served last night was one of the best which has featured any dance this season. Besides those already mentioned, Mrs. Darton, Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, Miss Lilian King and W. Vaughan Davies did valuable committee work.
