Mrs. Hall first tried Pacific Milk Butter for baking.

She discovered it is cheaper than lard and makes much nicer cakes.

Since Mrs. Hall's letter we have heard from several others saying virtually the same thing.

WANT SAMPLERS FOR PROSPECTORS

Board of Trade Asks Provincial Government to Aid Mining in That Respect.

In the memorandum prepared for the Board of Trade by a committee headed by J. B. Roerig for presentation to the Provincial Government the matter of the establishment of samplers was discussed. The memo says:

Under an act of the Legislature provision was made for public sampling works. It would appear that samplers are a highly important adjunct to the mining industry, especially when the mining is done by a number of smaller operators, and we should think that they should be under government control.

Since a sampling works does not require a large capital outlay as compared with smelters and refineries and would be useful pending the erection and operation of the latter, it would seem that the time has arrived to see that our northern camps are properly provided for in that respect, without undue delay. Our understanding of the functions of a sampler are that it is equipped with machinery to automatically sample the ore and accurately determine its metal content, making a nominal charge to producers for this service and is prepared to pay for the ore sampled, on the basis of the sample and determinations made, or else the shipper may consign the ore to a smelter elsewhere. Thus the shipper is not entirely in the hands of or at the mercy of the smelter in so far as the determination of the metal content of his ore is concerned.

Check on Smelter.

In the case of ore sampled in transit to the smelter the producer has the results of his ore as determined at the sampler when making his settlement with the smelter by which he has a check on the smelter settlement. Then, it is a fact that owing to the high freight rates on small shipments, the smaller operator is sometimes unable to ship his product with profit, and then too the small operator is at times hampered for sufficient working capital and is unable to stand the long delay in receiving the money for his ores from a smelter situated at a long distance from the point of origin of the shipment. Provided the determinations as made by the sampler were satisfactory to the shipper, then the shipper could get his returns immediately.

In Other Countries.

By the assembling of small lots in this way the sampler would be able to obtain the minimum freight rates on the shipments to be made in turn by it. There would appear to be a need for sampling plants built and operated at once by the Government at Alice Arm, Stewart and Prince Rupert. Samplers have long been in operation successfully in other countries and we fail to see how we are to give encouragement to the mining operators, more especially to the smaller operators, whom after all, we look to mainly to open up our mines. It may seem likely that there will be opposition to samplers by those that may favor the existing smelters for the reason that it may tend to interfere with their sometimes arbitrary and high-handed settlements.

Line with Smithers.

Attention is here directed to the proceedings of the Smithers Miners' Association which has passed a resolution advocating the establishment of government operated sampling works at Prince Rupert. Our understanding is that proceedings have been taken at Stewart and Alice Arm by similar organizations to the same effect.
