NO PRIZE YET FOR LIMERICKS

Judges Find Difficulty in Deciding So Are "Passing the Buck."

The prize winners for the limerick competition was to have been chosen for today, but owing to the large number of competitors and the difficulty in deciding there has to be a further delay. For the Daily News prize the judges chose three verses and from these they will ask some educationist to make the final pick. The verses are:

Martin O'Reilly.
Tis O'Reilly himself, the gossoon Whose ambition soars high as the moon,
To the well-off, the needy,
The stylish, the seedy,
His ads. in the News prove a boon.

The Alice B.
For a trip o'er the billowy sea
In a boat where there's pleasure to be,
So comfy and tight,
A bird in its flight,
That sure is the old Alice B.

St. Regis Cafe.
The high cost of living's no joke
It's keeping the most of us broke,
But to eat every day
At St. Regis Cafe
Is a good way to hand it a poke.

It may be pointed out that not one perfect limerick was found, there being in every case some slight defect in form. Most of the irregularities arose from using the wrong number of unaccented syllables, especially at the beginning of the lines. In the one to "Martin O'Reilly" there is a slight difference between the first two and the last lines, which should not be. The same thing happens in "The Alice B." In "St. Regis Cafe" the opening measure is made up of one unaccented and one accented syllable, whereas the beginning of the last line has two unaccented syllables before the one accented.

The Table Supply and the St. Regis Cafe have decided to give the writers of the best verses another chance and have in each case doubled the prize. Particulars will be seen in their advertisement.

STEWART RUSH ALREADY BEGUN

People Looking for Real Estate
Eut no Agent There.

James Stewart of the Stewart Land Co. arrived from the south yesterday on his way back to Stewart. He received a wire from the mining camp saying that people were there looking for locations to start business on; build houses and there was no one to look after them. He had not intended to return to Stewart until March 1 but business called and he responded.

There are between twenty and thirty passengers on their way to the mining camp and it seems as if by the time the snow goes, the place will be quite lively. At present the snow is about five feet deep.

Serving the New Canadians

DURING the past twenty years Canada received three million new settlers of whom about one million were of foreign speech. The war interrupted immigration, but soon the march westward will begin again.

Mutual Requirements

What do we expect of these new citizens? Respect for Law and order, a measure of diligence, that they may not become a charge upon the community, and a willingness to adjust themselves to a new environment.

What do they expect of us, the native-born? Justice, sympathy and kindness. They are entitled also to the stimulating influences of great Canadian Ideals. They have a right to the Gospel of Christ, not only explained in theory, but worked out in practice by Christian men and women.

The Church Hampered

The Church has not been neglectful of these new Canadians, whether settled in the crowded cities, or on the Western plains. But the effort to reach them with the ministry of Religion has been made difficult for lack of Missionaries to overtake the work, and by inadequate financial means.

A Case of Misunderstanding

Many Church Members do not realize the magnitude of the task. Lacking complete understanding of the situation, they have not sought out spiritual leaders for these new Canadians, and have been content with former standards of giving. Even with a slowing-down of immigration, the needs have not been met. What will happen when the flood-tide rolls in again?

Look! A Study in Contrasts

In the year 1800, the United States had a population of 5,308,483. During the next twenty years, 184,000 immigrants arrived in American ports.

In 1901, Canada had a population of 5,371,315. During the next fifteen years, the immigration to this Dominion reached a total of 2,906,021.

From 1904 to 1914, Canada accepted 250,000 MORE immigrants than the United States received in the same period—despite the fact that the population of the Republic was ten times that of Canada.

— Israel Zangwill and others speak of the United States as the melting-pot of the world, and marvel at the task of assimilating the new comers. WHAT WOULD THEY THINK OF THE PROBLEM IN CANADA?

Moulding the National Spirit

The great majority of immigrants now settled in the Dominion are men of good-will, with an aspiration for useful citizenship. They are helping to do the day's-work of this land for the advantage of us all. The future public opinion of Canada, the future moral stability of the nation depends upon the will and power of the Church to fulfil its trust to these New Canadians.

Motives for Activity

You are a Canadian, proud of your country, and deeply concerned for its future. You are a Christian, believing that the Gospel is the only dependable and invincible civilizing agency. You are urged to pray, to serve and to give, that the Home Missions of your Church may be properly sustained in this day of national emergency.
