Prince Rupert Can Do Her Share.

An appeal has been sent out to Canadian municipalities to wherever possible make purchases in Canada in preference to the United States in order to avoid the exchange and to build up Canadian industries. There have been many promises given that everything possible in this line will be done.

If this is a laudable object, the thing for Prince Rupert to consider is how can she help? She can help better by building up home industries than in any other manner. Here in Prince Rupert there have been many inquiries as to the prospects for building up industries. The city can make it possible for some of them to come by providing cheap power.

Power is the one thing needed above every other in a new factory. To put in local power plants for every factory is not only expensive and wasteful but often it is impossible to secure the requisite machinery. Power is important above everything else. There must be a thorough grasp of this fact before any progress can be expected.

It is not the province of a newspaper to attempt to suggest how this shall be done. The city administration undoubtedly is alive to the situation and will tackle it courageously. The object in mentioning the subject again is to try to rouse the people of this city to the importance of encouraging manufacturers here. We may not have shipbuilding always. We can, however, so build up the industries of Prince Rupert that we shall not be dependent on shipbuilding or any other one line of endeavor to keep the place busy.

Fisheries Resolution Should be Endorsed.

It has been suggested that every organization in town should endorse the resolution regarding the fisheries which was passed by the Board of Trade at its meeting on Friday night. If these organizations would wire an endorsement it might help strengthen the hands of Colonel Peck and help counteract the influences that are working against us.

Electricity is Modern Power.

The United States Trade Commissioner at Rome reports that the shortage of coal in Italy during the war has taught that country a lesson which will not soon be forgotten, and every effort is being made to encourage the use of electricity on the largest possible scale. The Italian Government has outlined a plan to subsidize all new electric power development undertakings for a period of fifteen years, but not extending beyond the year 1940. Plants entitled to the subsidy are also exempt from taxation on buildings for the same period. In addition to the subsidies for the construction of power plants, provision is also made for distribution lines, subsidies for construction and operation of such also being granted for a period of fifteen years, the amount of such subsidies varying according to the weight of copper employed in the lines. Provision has been made, too, for encouraging the use of electric power in connection with Italian agriculture and irrigation. A premium of 0.03 lire per kilowatt hour will be paid for a period of not more than ten years to firms or individuals for current utilized exclusively in the cultivation and harvesting of crops. The same premium will also be paid where irrigation works are supplied with water electrically pumped. Those operating electric plants enjoying subsidies from the government are required to reserve a portion of the current produced, up to 10 per cent., which must be furnished at the price made to the most favored user for agricultural and reclamation projects.
