The Vital Message By Conan Doyle.

Conan Doyle has written a second book on Spiritualism which he has named "The Vital Message." It is an argument in favor of a spirit world, more or less closely in touch with human affairs and with which communication may be had by means of those who have the power, a power not possessed by many. Doyle is firmly convinced as a result of many years of investigation, that there is a spirit world and that the spirits do communicate with men and women through mediums. He believes in spirit photography, table rapping, the ouija board, spirit voices, materialization and other phenomena and in every case ascribes the results obtained to spiritualism.

Instances Given of Wonderful Powers.

Doyle gives instances of wonderful powers enjoyed by some people. He tells, for instance, of D. D. Home, a Scottish American, the story of whose life written by his wife says that he was able to produce his phenomena in full daylight as well as in the dark. He never received payment for his services and refused a fee of $10,000 on one occasion. He had the power of self-levitation, the handling of fire, movement without touch of heavy objects, visible materialization of spirits, miracles of healing, and conveying messages from the dead. These and other powers have been possessed by other mediums and Mr. Doyle claims there can be no possible dispute as to their authenticity or any possibility of deception.

New Light From Spiritual Messages.

The writer of "The Vital Message" sees great hope from a general acceptance and belief in the spirit phenomena. He says: "With the actual certainty of a definite life after death and a sure sense of responsibility for our own spiritual development, a responsibility which cannot be put upon any other shoulders, however exalted, but must be borne by each individual for himself, there will come the greatest reinforcement of morality which the human race has ever known. We are on the verge of it now, but our descendants will look upon the past century as the culmination of the dark ages when man lost his trust in God, and was so engrossed in his temporary earth life that he lost all sense of spiritual reality."

What is the Power Ascribed to Spirits?

Everyone must be agreed that wonderful results are obtained both through people who profess to be mediums and also by others who have never practiced the art. We have all heard of wonderful messages and impressions, of dreams that have come true, of spirit manifestations and phenomena of other kinds so well attested that only the most incredulous would dare to disbelieve them. We also know that many very prominent men and women believe in spiritualism and are fully assured that it is not a phantasm but a reality.

The phenomena of spiritualism cannot well be doubted, but of the cause of the phenomena there is some doubt. That wonderful things are seen and heard, all who have investigated are agreed, but many investigators are not agreed that they are produced by spirits. We undoubtedly are in touch with some very wonderful power, so comprehensive yet elusive that it is difficult to understand. Men and women with special powers are continually making use of this power, just as we make use of wireless telegraphy. May not many of the results obtained come from mental telepathy, from the power of mind reading, of hypnosis, or the delving into the subconscious mind. Perhaps they come from a combination of these or from a new power not yet named.

In view of the great interest taken in spiritualism just now The News would like to publish a few short letters dealing with the experiences of local people or letters dealing with any phase of the subject.

"It is with pleasure that I write to tell you of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicine 'Fruit-a-tives', made from fruit juices. I was a great sufferer for many years from Nervous Headaches and Constipation. I tried everything, consulted doctors; but nothing seemed to help me until I tried 'Fruit-a-tives'."

After taking several boxes, I was completely relieved of these troubles and have been unusually well ever since". Miss ANNIE WARD.
