Prince Rupert Compared With Eastern Country.

Comparing conditions here with that which has obtained in the east of late, we have been wonderfully well off. Not only was there a month of clear sunshine with cool but not cold nights, but even since the break in the fine spell the weather has not been bad. In the east, however, both in Canada and in the States, there have been such storms that traffic has been tied up and people have not only been unable to get from one place to another, but in many cases they have been short of the necessities of life. For one thing they have been unable to get a proper supply of fresh fish from Prince Rupert.

Here the fishermen and fish buyers have suffered some inconvenience through not being able to get cars with which to handle the product. This is a serious matter, but nothing like so serious as not to be able to get food of any kind or fuel during intensely cold weather.

Added to the tieup in the east, there is of course the general shortage of equipment, caused by the fact that the Government of the country was bending all energies to winning the war instead of building cars. We are not enthusiasts about the Union Government, but we do not think they should be blamed for not providing money to build fish cars, when every dollar was needed for sending men and supplies overseas. Now conditions have changed and we are expecting the Dominion to do its bit here as well as at other places. Our railway must be equipped, docks and stations built, and other improvements put in. We believe this will be done no matter who is in power at the capital for no Government can afford to kill the usefulness of a railway such as the one we have.

Is There Yet a Unionist Party?

At the time of the last election the Toronto Globe was a Unionist paper, breaking with many of its former supporters because it believed the right policy was to support the war to the limit. Now, along with other journals, it feels that the work is accomplished. In a recent editorial it says:—

"The pretense that the Government at Ottawa is a Unionist Administration in any proper use of the term must be abandoned. The former Liberals who still retain their portfolios in the Coalition, or who support it as members of Parliament, can no longer deceive themselves with the idea that the fiscal and other policies of the Conservative party will be modified as a means of bringing about a fusion between the Liberal-Unionists and the Conservative party.

"If under these circumstances the Coalition remains in power until the end of the Parliamentary term, or even for another year, the former Liberals who continue to support it must make up their minds to accept the Conservative policy and vote as Conservatives if they have any desire to remain in political life. On no other footing can they hope to secure nominations for the next House of Commons.

"All over the country Conservatives are ignoring their allies, the Liberal-Unionists, and are insisting upon a return to the party organization that existed before 1917, and that remained inactive only because of the necessity of continuing the pretense of Union Government after the reality had ceased. The most powerful Conservative machine in the Dominion—the Central Association of Toronto—has decided to abandon its Unionist camouflage. At a special meeting of the Association a resolution was adopted declaring 'that in the opinion of this Association the time has now arrived to return to party lines, and it is further suggested that the Liberal-Conservative party proceed to reorganize on a broad, patriotic, national basis without delay.'"
