JUDGE YOUNG SPOKE ABOUT SOCIAL EVIL

of one around the island. Together with gonorrhoea, a disease that is taken lightly but is often chronic, this disease is making awful inroads on the health of our people and is responsible for a large percentage of the insanity, blindness and other defects of our people.

Duty of Parents.

The United States has already taken the matter in hand and if you read some of the literature they spread on the subject you would think it raw. There's no mincing matters and they call a spade a spade. This literature is circulated in the Y. M. C. A., normal schools and other organizations. In some states a study of sex hygiene is a necessary part of normal school training. Where formerly this subject was frowned upon, it is now being studied earnestly. An inexcusable mistake for parents to make is to send their children out into the world without a word being said of sexology. Much of the spread of venereal diseases could be prevented by parents.

Red Light District.

"Regarding red light districts, I once thought that the establishing of such was a way of controlling venereal diseases. I now see the folly of that belief. Competent medical authorities will tell you that they are the very breeding grounds of venereal diseases. It is impossible for a woman to live that life without in a very short time becoming affected with syphilis. The districts should be cleaned out, but not unless a strict follow up campaign is kept up. If it is not followed up better have the districts, but it can be followed up and eventually almost eradicated. These arguments for segregated areas are piffle and only advertize and encourage vice."

President S. D. Macdonald presided at the meeting which was largely attended. On behalf of the society he thanked Judge Young for his address.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

THAT Prince Rupert is growing, if the optimists are to be believed.

THAT the pessimist wants to know if she is growing better or worse.

THAT there was a time when cynics spoke of men, women and curates; now they speak of men, women and movie actors.

THAT the woman who advertises a well fed jackass for sale was probably getting back at her husband.

THAT many other women would do the same if they thought they would get a bid.

THAT the average young girl has an abiding faith in early marriages, a few years later she is in doubt, but when she passes the untellable age she is firmly convinced that all early marriages turn out unhappily.

THAT it is said the landlords in this city have a hard time raising the rents, but nothing like as hard as the tenants have.

THAT the loss of the Doreen with the terrible loss of life consequent thereon is another example of the facility with which Prince Rupert people absorb fiction.

THAT if the Daily News had published one quarter of the weird stories told of the boat, it would have needed big headlines to express them satisfactorily.

THAT some day Rupert will cease to be a village.

THAT this is the time of year to give advice to boat owners.

THAT here is a little: If you take more gas out of your tank than you put in, it will run dry and your boat will stop.

THAT boats need overhauling sometimes.

THAT oil is said to be important in the internal economy of the engine.

Suits that are pressed frequently and cleaned occasionally wear 25 to 50 per cent longer.

How to make your old suit last

"It is not every man that can afford to wear a shabby coat," Robert Colton once wrote.

The words hold as true now as when first written, three-quarters of a century ago.

Nevertheless it is needful today to make the old suit last—though not at the expense of becoming tattered.

Between the costliness of clothing at the one extreme, and shabbiness of them at the other, there is a middle ground where economy and good appearance meet.

Our modern dry cleaning establishment is this middle ground. Here our experienced cleaners can tune up your old clothes and preserve your new.

Every person realizes the business advantage and the social value of clothes well cleaned and neatly pressed, but there is more in these details than improvement of "looks" alone.

Ask your tailor or your clothier. They will inform you that apparel frequently pressed, and cleaned at intervals of two or three months, will wear from 25 to 50 per cent longer than clothes that are not so considerably cared for.

There is a sound reason for this. You wash your linen when it becomes soiled—it is a matter of self-respect and personal hygiene, of course, but it is also true that if left unwashed your shirts would wear out much more quickly.

Perspiration, oils, grease, and fruit juices have a corrosive effect; dust and dirt have a grinding action—your outer clothing needs purging of these equally as much as does your linen.

The cleansing gasoline baths used in our dry cleaning process, and the pressing of the presser, with hot steam working through the fabric, have a sterilizing action—your apparel is made, by our scientific treatment of each garment, as immaculate outside as inside, it keeps its shaper better, and is saved from tell-tale shininess.

Your old suit will last longer, and your new suit will do double duty if you will more frequently use our modern cleaning and pressing service, which is specially organized to meet your individual needs.

Get started on the road to clothes economy. We offer you prompt delivery and all the advantages of our up-to-the-minute dry cleaning methods. Telephone us today.

SCOTSMEN WELCOMED BACK TO ST. ANDREW'S

Musical Program at Social Given by Members Last Night.

At the social given last night by the St. Andrew's Society, President S. D. Macdonald on behalf of the society, welcomed back the old members, James Dick, J. McKechnie and M. J. McNeill. To Mr. McKechnie, who has just returned from military service, a roll of honor was presented.

A good musical program was rendered in which Ed. Ross, R. Arthur, Jr., Joseph Gay, Douglas Stork, J. Y. Fraser, W. Wilson Murray and J. Brough took part, with W. Vaughan Davis playing the accompaniments. During an intermission refreshments were served.

SMITHERS

The Skead interests who are operating the new Smithers sawmill last week acquired eight hundred acres of timber limits adjoining the Smithers townsite on the west from the North Coast Land Co.

The Catholic Club presented the first concert in the new Smithers hall last Wednesday night when they honored St. Patrick with a recital which netted $300. The concert was of a high order.

A steady business in realty is reported by Smithers real estate dealers who remark on the large number of inquiries for houses and the impossibility of supplying the demand.

T. A. McMartin has just recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia which at one time appeared to be very critical.
