B. C. INDIANS IN THE EAST

Give Interview to the Toronto Globe When on Way to Ottawa.

A party of British Columbia Indians passed through Toronto en route for Ottawa, where they intend presenting to the Federal Government the demands of the allied tribes of the far western province regarding their land rights, says the Toronto Globe.

The delegation is headed by Rev. Peter B. Kelly, a handsome and polished young Indian of the Haida tribe, who is chairman of the Allied Tribes' Executive, Chief Basil David, of the Shuswap tribe, is an interesting and picturesque member of this party. He is typically taciturn and meditative and has not yet learned the English language. He was one of the three Indians who went to England in 1906 and had an interview with the late King Edward. This is his third trip to Ottawa in the interests of the Indian land question in B. C. The other members of the delegation are George Matherson, member of the Executive of the Allied Tribes, and J. A. Teit, special agent and acting interpreter for the Chief. These two gentlemen are of Scottish extraction, Mr. Teit claiming to be a Shetland Islander as well as an Indian. The party is being conducted by A. E. O'Meara, counsel for the Allied Tribes. Mr. O'Meara is brother to Principal O'Meara of Wycliffe College.

The delegation represents about 20,000 Indians of various tribes in British Columbia, who are claiming their aboriginal rights to the land. The grievances of the British Columbia Indians are old and outstanding ones, and the Allied Tribes have for years been pressing their claims upon both the Provincial and the Federal Governments without success.

Draft Settlement Plan.

A basis of settlement has been drawn up and will be presented to the Government at Ottawa, and the delegation hopes to secure a full discussion of the matter in the House of Commons. It is intended to continue to press the case with the Privy Council; to insist upon a settlement in court on the basis proposed by the Indians, or the removal of all obstacles to Indians going on with the case.

In the basis of settlement the Indians ask that each tribe should acquire full title to the land set aside to it, with all the natural resources thereof. That all foreshores be included in reserves; that adequate additional lands be set aside under stated provisions.

Fishing Grievance.

One of the sorest grievances seems to be the restrictions laid upon the Indians in regard to fishing and hunting. Mr. Teit told (Continued on Page Five.)

How to make your old suit last

"It is not every man that can afford to wear a shabby coat," Robert Colton once wrote.

The words hold as true now as when first written, three-quarters of a century ago.

Nevertheless it is needful today to make the old suit last—though not at the expense of becoming tattered.

Between the costliness of clothing at the one extreme, and shabbiness of them at the other, there is a middle ground where economy and good appearance meet.

Our modern dry cleaning establishment is this middle ground. Here our experienced cleaners can tune up your old clothes and preserve your new.

Every person realizes the business advantage and the social value of clothes well cleaned and neatly pressed, but there is more in these details than improvement of "looks" alone.

Ask your tailor or your cleaner. They will inform you that apparel frequently pressed, and cleaned at intervals of two or three months, will wear from 25 to 50 per cent longer than clothes that are not so considerably cared for.

There is a sound reason for this. You wash your linen when it becomes soiled—it is a matter of self-respect and personal hygiene, of course, but it is also true that if left unwashed your shirts would wear out much more quickly.

Perspiration, oils, grease, and fruit juices have a corrosive effect; dust and dirt have a grinding action—your outer clothing needs purging of these equally as much as does your linen.

The cleansing gasoline baths used in our dry cleaning process, and the pressing of the presser, with hot steam working through the fabric, have a sterilizing action—your apparel is made, by our scientific treatment of each garment, as immaculate outside as inside, it keeps its shaper better, and is saved from tell-tale shininess.

Your old suit will last longer, and your new suit will do double duty if you will more frequently use our modern cleaning and pressing service, which is specially organized to meet your individual needs.

Get started on the road to clothes economy. We offer you prompt delivery and all the advantages of our up-to-the-minute dry cleaning methods. Telephone us today.

Harry Hanson's Patent

Patent Office, Ottawa, January 27, 1920.

Sir,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 17th inst. on the subject of Canadian patent No. 162632, granted to you on the 18th May, 1915, for a "Water Heater" and in reply to inform you that this patent was not made subject to the conditions of Section 44 of the Patent Act, (compulsory licence system) and is governed by Section 38 of the said Act, an extract from which I beg to enclose herewith.

I am also to inform you that the fee for the second six years term has not yet been paid, but it does not come due until the 18th May, 1921. The required amount is $20.00 and a covering letter referring to the patent by date and number, and stating the purpose for which the remittance is made is all that will be necessary.

I have the honour to be,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) W. J. LYNCH,
Chief of the Patent Office.

Harry Hanson, Esq.,
139 Second Avenue,
Prince Rupert, B. C.

With regard to the above letter, I wish to say that as I have complied with section and paragraph 38 of the Patent Act, and therefore do not come under Section 44 of the said Act, and as I am equipped and willing to install, make and sell said "Water Heater" to any and everybody, I therefore according to law can, and hereby do withdraw the privileges of others making these water heaters.

I am willing to negotiate for an agency to make my water heater, with anyone willing to pay the royalty of $2.00 on each one installed on the distinct understanding that a year's guarantee goes with it.

Harry Hanson

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:--

THAT it is proposed to start an "I Remember Club" in Winnipeg. For instance, one man says he remembers when he used to milk the cow on the site of Eaton's store, and so on et cetera ad libitum.

THAT Prince Rupert will soon be old enough for the same thing. There will be people who will say they remember the good old days of Centre Street; others will tell of the time when there was no pesky drydock to worry about. Some will remember when most of the people lived in tents or shacks; of the time when the whole city turned out to attend meetings of the city council; of the enjoyments of wading through the soft muskeg on Third Ave. Yes, very soon we shall be ready for an "I Remember Club."

THAT since we know that much of our silk is made from timber we are wondering if the aeroplane spruce logs are being ground into stockings.

THAT the day is almost past when the bad man carried a gun in his hip pocket.

THAT today the bad man carries a flask in the same old pocket and fills his victims with squirrel brand made from wood alcohol.

THAT the new weapon is much more effective than the old.

THAT the latest proposal is to form an eight-hour day for the knockers.

THAT at present they persist in working overtime.

THAT it is a pity their little hammers do not wear out.

THAT good behavior is the finest of the fine arts.

THAT it is never good behavior to tell others of one's ills.

THAT it should be a shame to say we are not well, when there are the means of health all around us.

THAT, "as a man thinketh, so is he."

THAT the same applies to a woman only more so.

THAT the man who eats only so that he may live is to be admired, but if all did it, the world would be a mutual admiration society.

THAT most of us eat because the appetite calls vociferously, and when our master calls we always obey.

THAT everything in nature is moving.

THAT when we die we disintegrate, the movement goes on.

THAT life consists in giving. To live fully it is necessary to give life, love, joy, and beauty. The dead exhale putridity.

THAT the fortunate owner of a pair of gum boots was able to gloat this morning.

THAT it was proper even for ladies to swear "By Gum" this morning.
