The Bridge of Truth.

The principle of the cantilever bridge may be applied with good effect not only to a material structure to span some Niagara gorge, but also to a mental structure to bridge the chasm between the finite and the infinite.

Taking our stand on the left bank of the river, we watch the construction. There is, first, the work of excavating to get a firm foundation as far out in the river as possible. Then there is the massive concrete pier erected on this foundation. Then the steel fabric pivoted on this pier with one end securely anchored to the shore, and the other stretching into the air midway across the chasm. It seems to lead nowhere but into space.

Chasm Between Finite and Infinite.

In trying to span the chasm between the finite and the infinite it is best for us to begin on the human side. We must first dig deep to get a firm foundation. Let us begin with what we can prove to be true in our personal experience. This we shall find out not so much through metaphysical reasoning as through studying the working of the human mind and the developing of human society. Through the scientific observation of repeated experience we arrive at a practical certainty regarding the laws of the human mind and the principles of social life. Here we have a mental structure built upon the firm foundation of experienced fact; but, as we follow in the direction indicated by these principles and laws of human personality and human society, they seem to lead us out of ourselves to something beyond ourselves. All great psychologists frankly admit this tendency of the human mind to externalize and objectify inward feelings and desires; but they stop here, for this is as far as the human side will take us.

Laws of Mind are Laws of God.

There are some religious enthusiasts who want to stake everything upon the principle of authority—"Believe this because the Church says so," or "Believe this because the Bible says so." If this principle of authority is sufficient for them, let them rejoice in it, but let them not be so foolish as to think that they can convert the world to their way of thinking either by declamation of dogma or by denunciation of criticism.

The principle of bare authority unsupported by human reason is not sufficient for a vast number of thinking men and women in this age of intelligence. The laws of the human mind are the laws of God, and by following up in the direction these laws lead us we can best appreciate the Divine truths which correspond to our human needs.

No words can express how much Christianity will gain by this rehabilitation of religious faith through the psychological approach. Many are now crossing by this bridge.

F. H. DU VERNET, Archbishop of Caledonia.

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Relieved By "Fruit-a-tives"

LITTLE BRAS D'OR, C. B. "I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches and did not sleep well at night. Finally, a friend told me to try "Fruit-a-tives". In a week, the Constipation was corrected and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.
