Randram's BB WHITE LEAD

THEY used it for the stage-coach of olden days in England—we use it in Canada today. Compare it with any other white lead or white paint, and you will decide that your house—or anything you wish to have truly white and remain white—must be painted with this brand which has survived as the leading white lead for nearly two centuries.

Thinned with linseed oil and turpentine, it makes a perfect white paint. Combined with coloring matter, it makes the satisfactory tinted paint of any shade. It is the basis for that finest of ready-mixed paint, B-H "English" Paint.

Made in a modern Canadian factory, and by the same process as was employed for its manufacture by its inventor in England, it is today the only survivor of all the patented white lead processes of that earlier generation. It has survived because it results in a white lead of exceptional fineness, whiteness and durability.

MODERN DANCE IS CRITICIZED

Caustic Comment on "Vulgar Affectations" by Newspaper Editor.

In view of the keen interest taken in dancing in this city, it will prove of interest to note what a newspaper editor, in another town thinks of the modern manifestations. He says:—

Nobody grudges the boys and girls their good times. The young people of today had five years of suppression, five years when their natural, healthy, animal spirits have been frowned upon or have just naturally died from the tragedy with which the air was filled.

But now that the war is over and peace is actually with us, we are all glad to see the young things enjoy their festal hour. The dance is the order of the night and we believe that dancing properly conducted and supervised, is as natural and healthy a diversion as walking or skating.

But—sometimes when one watches modern youth indulging in modern dancing, one longs to murmur in the ears of the dancers those well-known lines of Burns: "Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us To see ourselves as others see us."

The girl who waltzes about the room with her eyes closed and her head laid on the man's chest or shoulder, may fancy she is having a delightfully romantic time, but she is providing a delightfully amusing jest for all the onlookers.

The "Strangle Hold."

The girl who places her arm about the neck of the young man with whom she is dancing, in what he is apt to irreverently designate as a "strangle hold," the girl who places her head closely against his cheek—may think she is being up-to-date, but she completely ruins the effect of her dancing, no matter how good that may be.

These affectations are as vulgar as holding hands in the electric car, or any other variety of "spooning" in public, which is always a sign of ill-breeding.

The position approved by the best dancing masters is the one which is gracefully correct. The right hand is placed lightly in the man's left hand, and the girl's left hand is placed upon the man's right shoulder. This allows enough proximity for good dancing, but not enough to become objectionable to good taste.

You've heard that trite expression: "position is everything," used of many things. Think of it when you dance and don't make yourself ridiculous, cheap or common by your attitude.

Feasting and Dancing Mark England's Day

years this great navy had kept the nation inviolate and protected the commercial and financial channels of the world. Mr. Newton drew attention to the statement of Marshal Foch that Britain had been the backbone of the Allies during the recent great war and was largely responsible for ultimate victory. He emphasized the necessity of supporting the Dominion Government in its work of reconstruction and, more especially, in the forming of a Canadian adjunct to the British navy.

Other Speakers.

T. Silversides also spoke briefly in response to the same toast and mentioned the prowess of England in war, commerce and civilization. Wars were not liked but sometimes they had great reforming effects on nations. The toast to the ladies was responded to by Dr. A. H. Bayne who emphasized the importance of the gentleman, not the weaker, sex in world's work today. The toast to "Kindred Societies" was answered briefly and to the point by W. E. Thompson, of the Sons of Canada and Wm. Reid of the St. Andrew's Society.

A most pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Myhill Jones by E. R. Tabrum, on behalf of the Sons of England, a silver casserole and pie server. After Mr. Myhill Jones had suitably responded, Canon Rix proposed a toast to the bride and then the audience joined in "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" in which Mr. Myhill Jones was seen

"Wee MacGregor" DRAG SAW

THE ORIGINAL LIGHT WEIGHT PORTABLE, GASOLINE OPERATED DRAG SAW & POWER PLANT
(Frequently Imitated Never Equalled)

The "WEE MacGREGOR" Drag Saw is an inexpensive practical and proven machine, peculiarly adapted for the rapid and accurate cutting of wood under any conditions, on land or water. With equal facility and proportionate rapidity it will cut the small or large log up to seven feet in diameter. Depending upon size and character it will cut from either green or dry logs, 20 to 30 cords of wood a day.

So light is its weight it can easily be carried from one point to another. One man can move it on the log and two men from log to log. It has sawn a 2-foot log in 50 seconds, a 4-foot log in 3 minutes and a 6-foot log in 6 minutes. Its operating cost for gasoline, oil and grease is approximately 4 cents a cord.

Full operating instructions are furnished with each machine, and its mechanism is so simple it can be operated and kept in order by any person. Its power can be harnessed to the feed cutter, the pump, the circular saw, the churn or the separator.

to join. Cheers for bride and groom were then given.

The Dance.

Following the banquet a large number of the guests adjourned to St. Andrew's hall where a dance was given with Gray's orchestra presiding. The dance was as much a success as the banquet and proved a fitting conclusion to a highly successful evening. The committee in charge included President Myhill Jones, Bert Wearmouth, Frank Salter, Percy Tinker, E. R. Tabrum, A. Slocomb, Frank Vickers, and L. Reith. The banquet committee included Messdames Leek, Williams, Edmunds, S. V. Cox, C. Kemp, Arthur Baillie, E. A. Woods, Hillier, Crane, Miss Hughes and other members of the Daughters and Maids. The catering was in the able hands of Mrs. Corral.

SAVE YOUR SIGHT

EYESIGHT—The most valuable of all the senses—is the most neglected and the least understood. Many suffer from it, which, upon examination, can be traced directly to defective eyesight.

THE removal of the cause will often restore the delicate and run-down sufferer to robust health. When glasses are properly prescribed, they restore the vision, to normal and eliminate all eye strain.
