New Press in Operation Today.

On the front page today will be seen an illustration of a new printing press which has been installed in the Daily News shop on which this paper has been printed today for the first time. It is a large and costly machine, but necessary in the development of a business such as the publishing of a daily paper such as the News.

For some time past the shop has been handicapped very seriously in the making of the paper, by the lack of proper printing facilities. Like all other newspapers in the district it has been put out on a job press, the one just installed being the first strictly newspaper press introduced into the northern and central part of the province.

Courage Needed in Spending Money.

A great deal of courage was needed in making so important a change as that just completed. To invest a considerable sum of money in equipping just one section of the printing office, an investment which must without doubt be followed closely by other investments, could have been carried out only by one who had perfect faith in the future of the city and district. We have seen that investment, feeling sure that the future will warrant even if the present does not. The city is bound to grow, and that growth the Daily News proposes to play an important part in. It will, we hope, not be simply a cog in the wheel, but part of the motive power that will carry the city forward to a position of prominence and influence in the development of the north. We have great opportunities. The men with vision already see them. We face the future with courage.

Lending Support to Community.

The Daily News is not looking for anything that it does not earn. It feels, however, that it is earning the support of the community. With that view it makes the suggestion that the citizens, and especially the business people, shall back it in the endeavor to forward the interests of the community. Money is necessary in the growth of any institution. The Daily News needs money to fulfill its aspirations as a live factor in the growth of the community.

Advertising is the life blood of any newspaper. The man who does not advertise his business, not only misses the opportunity to help himself, but misses the opportunity to take part in promoting the interests of the city in general. He is not on the wire of advancement. We look on the advertisers in this paper as to a considerable extent shareholders in the business.

City Judged by Its Newspapers.

To the man on the outside, the city is judged by its newspapers. Never a week passes that at least one inquiry does not come from outside and often far away points, asking for a copy or a few copies of the paper in order to see what is going on here. We send them, even though we do not get paid for them. We believe in advertising the city and we think we are doing our bit in that way. Then it is we feel proud that we have a presentable paper to send them. We feel that the citizens are not ashamed of the paper going out to the world, even if it is not very large.

Larger Size Commences Today.

Today the Daily News is one column wider than it has been heretofore. It has assumed the regular city size. If we get proper support from the people here, we shall continue the size, but if not, it will have to be reduced to correspond to the advertising support. The increase is a costly one, adding six columns to that carried previously.

When the paper was taken over by its present management nearly two years ago, it was not expected that it would always continue as a six page paper. It was thought that during dull months it would drop back to four. However, with the exception of the time when the strike was in progress a year ago, the six pages have been continued, even though sometimes money was lost in doing so. It is to be hoped that the present increase may also be permanent and that the growth of the city will make possible even further increases.

R. R. No. 4, GILBERT PLAINS, MAN.
"In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form; dropping from 170 to 115 pounds.
The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take "Fruit-a-tives".
I began to mend almost at once, and never had such good health as I have enjoyed the past eight years. I am never without "Fruit-a-tives" in the house". JAS. S. DELGATY.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.
The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

THAT an overall club has been formed by the students of the Victoria High School.

THAT the name sounds something like one that would have been formed in Germany before the war under the direct aegis of the Kaiser.

THAT someone has dug up the fact that there are no printers in the asylums. That is undoubtedly true, says an editor, but printers are the cause of hundreds of editors and managers going there.

THAT any person wishing to live in Prince Rupert should emulate Diogenes. That worthy philosopher lived in a tub. The difficulty with modern people is they are not philosophers.

THAT an editor makes a mistake who puts the funny column on the same page as the editorial. The people read the f.e. but leave the highbrow stuff for the highbrows who do not exist.

THAT it is different when the editor writes funny stuff himself. In some papers (south of the boundary line) the people leave the humorous column to laugh over the foolishness of the editor.

THAT if a man is warned not to get off a car backwards and he fails, he falls on his own responsibility.

THAT some lightheaded loon wants to know what he would have fallen on if he had not been warned.

THAT the advantage of living in Prince Rupert is that nobody worries if you smoke a cigarette. It is somewhat the same in Vancouver or Victoria, but from the effect east, whatever that may mean, may the good lord deliver us.

THAT if people would only change their socks as often as they change their minds!

THAT a stuttering man should be very familiar with the parts of speech.

THAT it is wonderful how natural some people will look if they have to wear overalls.

THAT it is only girls who worry about high or low waists. Men never seem to mind where they are as long as they are where they are.

THAT a contemporary discusses "a sound public opinion."

THAT is the difficulty; many of the public opinions are nothing but sound.

THAT there is already a son recorder here, and now we are to have a sun recorder.

THAT both will be kept busy if things go on as they have been going.

STRONGLY URGE BUILDING OF MORSE CREEK BRIDGE

The soldiers, drew attention to the large number of returned men residing there. He stated that the G. W. V. A. was especially in favor of good roads and bridges and urged the city to surmount the financial difficulties in the way of the construction and thus provide an asset for the city as a whole as well as the returned men.

The mayor stated that there was no argument to offer against the remarks in the main. Personally, he was much in favor of the bridge going in but $12,000 had been voted by the people for the bridge and it was going to cost over $30,000. A new money bylaw would have to be passed and this might be turned down, putting the city in a bad position. He was, however, confident that the Board of Works would recommend this course.

Alderman Dybbavn suggested that the bridge might be built of hemlock instead of imported fir, thus reducing the cost. Alderman Casey said that it would be good business to have the bridge constructed and, as a member of the Board of Works, felt sure they would urge the work being proceeded with as soon as possible. Ald. Casey suggested the conference in committee with the contractors which was acted upon.
