A Comprehensive Church, Suggests Archbishop.

If an institution is a means to an end rather than an end in itself it must be adapted to the work it has been organized to perform.

If the Church of Christ is to perform the work for which it was commissioned and inspire with the Spirit of Christ all classes, races and nations in the world, it must be a truly catholic church, not only in name but in the variety of the structural and functional elements which it comprehends.

While the essential truth to be proclaimed may be the same, the way of putting it must differ with every race of people and every type of character. While the object of worship may be the same, the method of worship which best appeals to one type of mind will differ from that which best appeals to another type of mind among the members of the same race or even the members of the same family.

As we survey the mixture of races in our land, as well as think of the variety of classes among our people, the truth is borne in upon us with irresistible force that only a comprehensive church can reach the whole community.

Need of Union Felt in Country.

It is in the sparsely settled districts that the need of church union is most acutely felt. Often a community of about three hundred people has three or four churches while another community not fifty miles away is entirely destitute of religious services.

In British Columbia the Anglican Provincial Synod and the Presbyterian Provincial Synod have recently approved in general terms the report of a joint-committee favoring a measure of co-operation in new and sparsely settled districts.

Various Needs for Different People.

We need every style of public worship from that of an informal cottage meeting to that of a stately cathedral service. There is no valid reason why there should not be in the same village church, at 8 a. m. on Sunday the Holy Communion according to the rite of the Anglican Church, at 11 a. m. a service according to the custom of the Presbyterian Church, and at 7 p. m. another service according to the style of the Methodist Church.

F. H. DU VERNET, Archbishop of Caledonia.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Parrsboro, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance.

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

JOHN E. GUILDERSON, Contractor and Mason.

Mining News

Soldier Prospectors.

Many applications are being received by the Provincial Government from returned men who are desirous of taking advantage of the scheme inaugurated recently to send out returned men as prospectors. It is the intention to place the parties in the field by June 1, according to William M. Bigsaver, government mining engineer at Victoria, who is in charge of getting the men out. There were over 100 applications in Victoria at the first of last week.

Telegraph Creek Rich.

E. F. Williams returned to Seattle last week with the latest information regarding the placer strike on Telegraph Creek in the old Cassiar district. He declared that the Sid Barrington crowd would clean up over $150,000 from ground opened during the winter where pay ran as high as $3 on bedrock. Last week at Wrangell he met a late arrival from Telegraph Creek familiar with the Barrington ground. He was informed that during the winter considerable gold had been washed out by hand panning, and that a large dump is now being sluiced. The usual winter method of thawing is being used. Barrington is a former Yukon River pilot now operating a steamboat on the Stikine River. His home is in Seattle.

Analyzing Coal.

The Government of Alberta is considering the question of utilizing the different government power plants throughout the province for the purpose of showing which classes of coal are most suitable for certain purposes. A great deal of consideration is also being given to the problem of obtaining a furnace suitable to Alberta coal. Both the Government and the University of Alberta are carrying out a good deal of research work on the mineral resources of the province generally. The principal problems are the utilization of tar sands, classification of coals, quantitative and qualitative determination of the mining resources of the province and the development of clay deposits.

Boom Atlin District.

There seems to be every likelihood of a boom at Atlin this season. As announced before a concentrator is to be installed at the Malloy Group. It is more than probable that the Stewart and Alice Arm districts will be overcrowded this summer and the overflow would do well to go further north to Atlin as it is a splendid district. The Engineer mine gives promise to become one of the biggest gold mines in the province.

Dowdney Trail.

The Hope Prospectors' Association has taken up with the provincial engineer for the district the matter of reopening the Hope-Princeton-Dowdney trail with the result that the Hon. Dr. King has promised that the trail will be surveyed this summer. This will be good news to prospectors as it will open up to travel a considerable mining area that, owing to its inaccessibility, has been neglected. It is claimed that this will make one of the best routings for a trans-provincial highway.

David Jay, teller in the Bank of Montreal, is out again after his second operation in the general hospital and on Monday will leave by the Prince George to spend a two months' leave of absence at his home in Vancouver.
