RIVERS INLET FISHERYMEN

Meeting Held Which was Addressed by Fisheries Inspector for the District.

RIVERS INLET, June 7.—The inauguration of the open fishing policy by the Dominion Government having necessitated several changes in the Fishing Regulations this year, the fishermen and canners of Rivers Inlet requested J. T. C. Williams, Inspector of Fisheries, to hold a meeting for the purpose of explaining the regulations for the current season. The meeting was held on May 29 and the attendance was large and representative. Returned soldiers, white, Indian and Japanese fishermen and canners being present.

Captain J. D. McMurray, M.C., occupied the chair.

Addressed Gathering

The Inspector addressed the meeting, explaining the various changes in the Regulations, and elucidating the many points that were not clear to the fishermen and cannerymen. He spoke at length on the open fishing policy, the non-limitation of licenses to Whites and Indians, and the issuing of Salmon Gill-net Licenses. He touched also on many other questions that are of such importance to the fishing industry, such as the removal of obstructions from the salmon spawning streams, the marking of fishing boundaries, the weekly close season, and other matters affecting the conservation of the fisheries and for the benefit of the fishing industry generally.

The address was highly appreciated by everyone present and the following resolution was moved by E. Emmons, a returned soldier fisherman, and unanimously approved:

"That the thanks of this meeting of fishermen, cannerymen and those interested in the fishing industry be tendered to Inspector John T. Williams for his address and in view of the friendly relations that have existed; his services, during a long term of yeasr, of faithful and just administration of District No. 2 as applied to Rivers Inlet; and on this first occasion of such a representative gathering, a vote of appreciation and confidence be passed, and a copy of this resolution be given him as a further incentive to a continuance of his success in the future."

SMOKER AT ESSINGTON

Skeena River Ex-Service Club had Enjoyable and Successful Affair—60 Present.

The smoker of the Skeena River Ex-Service Club given at Port Essington on Saturday night in the town hall was a rousing success with about 60 in attendance. George Durham, the commodare of the club, was in the chair and Will Edmunds and J. Stuart Pudney from Rupert took part in the program, which was entertaining and well carried out. Cockney Johnson, of Balmoral, gave tin whistle solos and step dances which were really excellent.

A feature of the evening was a comic boxing bout between Sid Beckwith, Balmoral's white hope, and Kid Herman, of Haysport. Both boxers entered the ring blindfolded and kept the audience in roars for the length of their contest. Many patriotic airs were sung by the whole assembly and it was about midnight when the gathering broke up. Invitations had been sent to all the canneries in the neighborhood but some such as Claxton had no representatives.

At a meeting held Friday night of the officials and representatives of the intermediate baseball it was decided to allow the senior baseball team to use the Acropolis baseball grounds every Tuesday night and Sunday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. for practice games. This action was necessary as up to date it had been impossible for the senior team to get sufficient practice owing to the large number of league and other games arranged.
