American People And Their Presidents.

It is curious how presidents are made in the United States. So far as can be seen nobody wanted Harding as a Republican candidate except the people of Ohio and only part of them. Outside of that state there was no demand for him as a representative. A great many people wanted General Wood, a great many wanted Johnson and other candidates were in favor more or less throughout the country. This did not count in making the choice. A man had to be chosen who was not disliked and it must be a man who had the confidence of the controlling interests. As a result Harding was the man who eventually was picked.

There has been a general feeling throughout the country that whoever received the nomination by the Republican party on this occasion would undoubtedly be elected president. That is not at all sure. Not only does he start out with a strong opposition in his own party, but he also will be opposed by labor, which is stronger than ever it was before, as well as by the Democrats. The reasonable thing now would be for the Democrats and labor interests to unite their forces. In that way they would be irresistible.

Democrats Nominate At End of Month.

There seems to be much less interest taken in the Democratic nomination than in the Republican. The convention is to be held in San Francisco on June 28, but who the nominee is likely to be no one seems to know. McAdoo is mentioned, and there is always the third term possibility for Wilson.

Much now will depend on the nomination of the Democrats. The third candidate in the field so far is the Socialist, Eugene Debs.

Labor Against Soviet System.

It is a notable thing that the British labor representatives are opposed to the soviet system of government as worked out in Russia. The English labor men have been pointed to here as being so much more advanced in their policies and methods than those on this side, that it was expected they would immediately seize upon any better method that they found and endorse it. Apparently the method they found was not a good one, hence they have turned it down.

The soviet system of government may have some good features in it, but it has not been tried out. It appeals to many because of its newness, but the level headed British workmen did not like it. They saw more freedom in British institutions than in this mushroom growth originating from an oppressed people.

It will be difficult for those who have been building their hopes on the soviet government as the cure for all our woes, to change their point of view. They have been misled. It will be interesting to read the full report of the delegates to Russia, when it arrives on this side.

There is a general desire among the people of the world to find some way of living without having to work. There is a feeling everywhere that someone else is getting more out of life than ourselves. Far away fields look green. It is a good thing to meet other people and to find out something about their difficulties. Then we learn to appreciate our own privileges.

Make Our Own Government the Best.

What we all need need to do, is to set to work to make our own form of government the best in the world. It can be modified from time to time as occasion requires. We may slough off some of the unnecessary things and add here and there as required. To throw off everything, however, and to experiment with something wholly new, would be madness. The British labor men have taught us a needed lesson.

"I am writing you to tell you that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-lives'. This medicine relieved me when I had given up hope of ever being well.

I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good.

I read about "Fruit-a-lives" and tried them. After taking a few boxes, of this wonderful medicine made from fruit juices, I am now entirely well!"

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

JAIL GOVERNOR JOINS GANG OF INCARCERATED

Refuses to Produce Prisoners at Order of Court and is Sentenced to a Year.

MONTREAL, June 15.—"Hoist with his own petard" is a common expression, but "imprisoned in his own jail" now promises to be popularized. Penitentiary Governor Malapert has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for declining to produce prisoners on the order of the court.

An appeal was asked but the Minister of Justice has approved the refusal. As a result, Malapert will have to serve his time.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

June 15, 1910

Work on the construction of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage plant has started. A scowload of lumber and piling has arrived from Vancouver and the docks will commence shortly. The sawmill dock is being used temporarily for the unloading of material.

The Prince Rupert arrived here on her maiden trip today at noon and a pretentious ovation was given to the officials and passengers who made the first trip. She is commanded by Captain Barney Johnson and Captain C. H. Nicholson is the manager of the fleet. A dance is being given in the McIntyre Hall tonight in honor of the passengers.

Application has been made to the provincial government for permission to build a railway from Portland Canal to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway at Kitsumkalum.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

THAT a farmer hates to admit he is making money these days.

THAT call him a profiteer and something is likely to happen at any time.

THAT the only person who remembers the cold winter days is the man who is still paying off his coal bill.

THAT the man who says crime has no value has another thing coming. How would the policeman earn a living if there was no one to arrest?

THAT as the weather improves the number of dears in the woods seems to increase.

THAT mother trains the children and father trains the dog, and sometimes neither behave very well.

THAT when a drink has no kick nobody is interested, but when a motorboat engine has no kick, everybody has something to say.

THAT a hemp corporation has been started in Winnipeg with a man named Grassie as the chief instigator. What could be more appropriate?

THAT a United States paper states that if the designers decide that the skirts are to be longer, the prices will go higher. And if they decide to have the skirts go higher — good night!

THAT someone asks when will the weary war between the United States and Germany end?

THAT possibly the U.S. wants to be in the war as long as the other belligerents.

THAT what everybody is wondering about is what has happened to all the June brides this year? Most of them seem to have been married in May.

THAT some judge a man by his walk and others by his handshake, but the best way is to go to headquarters.

THAT it is all right for a girl to be independent when she is nineteen, but the nearer to thirty she arrives the more desperate she becomes.
