Sport Briefs

On Dominion Day there will be no baseball game by the teams of the Junior League. At first it was thought that it would be quite possible to arrange a skirmish for that date. However, the day is so full of the other big games that it was impossible to give the young boys a suitable time for playing.

There will be no races for grown ups this year at the First of July celebration. The whole morning will be given over to the jollification of the Prince Rupert youngsters.

New Metlakatla is alive these days. Ben Self just received a wire the other day saying that they were coming down to Prince Rupert for the first of July. No financial assistance was requested but they just wanted to come down for this year's big blowout.
They will also bring their own band if arrangements can be made. It will be rather awkward to arrange for more baseball games on Dominion Day, so if the New Metlakatla people were willing, it is very likely that a couple of matches might be manoeuvred before that time.

From every quarter comes the good news that Ketchikan is coming here with a greater representation than ever this year. Very likely one of the big boats will be chartered so that three or four hundred can make the trip. After taking the visitors home the boat will carry a large delegation from here to storm the Alaskan fort on the Fourth of July.

On Dominion Day the football match will come in the middle of the afternoon, immediately after the first baseball game.

The cup tie games will be played off on Friday night between the Callies and the Sons of England and the G. T. P. and Trails will meet next Wednesday. The deciding game which is to be staged on Dominion Day ought to prove a very interesting one.

At the first playoff in the cup tie series on Friday evening the Sons of England will be picked from the following: S. J. Winsty, H. F. Wearmouth, S. Darton, E.
Tabrum, W. Crisp, G. Kelsey, A.
Bentley, A. E. Slocomb, G. P.
Tinker, H. M. D. Lambe, James
Farquhar, A. M. Davis, W.
Quayle.

For the Callies the line-up will be Martin; Menzie and Stewart; Stewart, Kinghorn and Ley; Booth, Wiggins, White, Willisroft and Black; reserve, Mitchell.
