Sport Briefs

There will be no baseball match in the Commercial League tomorrow afternoon. Following the Dominion Day excitement regular games will be arranged for and continued until the end of the season. So far the matches held by this league have proved very interesting and have provided great sport and amusement for fans and players.

* * *

The general topic for discussion now is the possible outcome of the Callies vs. G.T.P. football game to be played on Dominion Day. The boosters are busy in both camps and it is very certain that a large crowd will greet the stripes and the blues as they come on to the field following the afternoon baseball match on Thursday.

* * *

On Friday evening the second half of the Intermediate baseball league commences, with the Beavers and the Red Sox in the initial engagement. Although no definite arrangements have been completed, it is very likely that the Red Sox and the Colts will play on the following Monday. This will be the postponed game of last Friday.

"Spud" Cummings arrived on the Grand Trunk steamer this morning from Victoria. He is the star short stop of the Rupert baseball team and augurs well for the success of the home team in the Ketchikan series tomorrow. Last week local fans thought that they had lost "Spud" for good when he left so hurriedly with the other boys from Victoria, but he was not long in changing his decision and coming north again of his own volition.

It takes Clementson to show real spirit as far as playing the game is concerned. He was told yesterday morning that there would be a baseball game that evening, so immediately after work he went up to the grounds to get things in shape. For a long time he worked all alone clearing off the diamond. A few fans staggered up but none of the ball tossers appeared. Finally "Clem" strolled down town only to find that the game had been called off. These are some of the joys of being a baseball team captain.

NEXT MONTH NEW SERVICE B.C. TO FRANCE

Pacific to be First Steamer Load On This Coast for Havre and Calais.

LONDON, June 30.—The inauguration of the North Pacific Havre-Calais Line, whose steamships will travel via the Panama Canal, will be completed next month, when the mail steamship Pacific (6,500 tons dead weight) will be loaded at Vancouver for French ports. She will be followed by the mail steamship Kron Princessan Margarite in August, and thereafter there will be regular sailings every six weeks. The new enterprise will be started by the Johnson Line of Stockholm, which has some 42 ships in commission.

Agent-General.

F. C. Wade, K. C., Agent-General for British Columbia, in speaking of this new line to a representative of the Canadian Gazette, said: "A little over a year ago it was proposed to operate this line from B. C. ports to France, and I at once notified the Provincial Government to that effect, and circularized the Boards of Trade in order that freight might be forthcoming for the new undertaking. In 1912 Henri Moreau, who was agent for the Johnson Line in French ports, started the Montreal-Calais line, which has proved a great success, and just before the war was bringing to Calais 10,000 tons of goods every month. The inauguration of the line from British Columbia ports to France has been for various reasons postponed, but it is now to become an accomplished fact. I am much interested in the enterprise, for I have been working on the Panama Canal route ever since I came to this office."

Short Route.

The distance from Liverpool to B. C., via Cape Horn, is 14,558 miles. The Panama Canal shortened the distance to 8,892 miles. Before the war it was estimated that a combined freight and passenger steamer of 8,000 tons gross register, running 14 knots and burning 100 tons of coal daily, would cost to operate about $750 a day. By using the Panama Canal the saving of such a vessel from Liverpool would be 5,666 nautical miles, that is about 17 days' steaming, or $12,750, less canal dues. At present prices the saving on every ship would be much greater.
