In the Letter Box

In the following letter, ex-Ald.
Morrissey expresses his views on G. L. Clayton's fishing proposition:

To the Citizens of Prince Rupert, the Mayor and City Council, Ladies and Gentlemen:—Re the proposal of Geo. L. Clayton submitted to the mayor and city council of Prince Rupert, as published in Sunday's Journal, in my opinion should receive more than passive thought by the city council and citizens in general before being condemned or acted upon rashly. To me it strongly appeals as being a move in the right direction, and one that should receive ample dissection before being laid aside.

The proposition of supplying the necessary funds for the erection of a plant suggested by Mr.
Clayton, on a bond issue of the city, covering a 15-year period.
Upon this special phase of the question I have not a knowledge as to how such a proceeding is controlled by the act governing municipalities. If such power is not vested in the city by the passage of a bylaw sanctioned legally by the people, then I believe such necessary steps should be taken to have special legislation enacted covering such an undertaking by the city of Prince Rupert.

A bond issue, say for $200,000, for a period of fifteen years, on a net assessment roll of city real estate of $15,000,000, subdivided into annual payments for sinking fund and interest at 7 per cent per annum would not exceed one half mill per annum, provided certain methods could be adopted.

Taking Mr. Clayton's figures on the number of vessels engaged in the fish business, contributory to Seattle, and their average fare per month, viz 131 bottoms at 25,407 pounds each monthly, would amount to 3,420,000 pounds as a total receipt in fish per month.

I will here venture a suggestion that would aid in lessening the burden of taxation on the ratepayers, while endeavoring to pay the sinking fund and interest for the redemption of the bond issue.
That a civic port tax of one-sixteenth of one cent per pound on the gross receipt of 3,420,000 pounds monthly, to be collected from each vessel's fare upon landing, chargeable to each fisherman, if he fishes on shares, or to the vessel if she hires her crew, and such a tax on the suggested amounts would realize $25,000 annually, a sum sufficient to cover the total sinking fund and interest on the required amount.
This would be on a basis of the bonds selling at par and not to exceed 7 per cent per annum.
Further considering the growth of the enterprise to the figures suggested by the fares landed in Seattle, and the possibility of a year of the fish failing, provision must always be made for the payment of the sinking fund and interest, hence the necessity of estimating the cash by direct taxation, which would not exceed one and one half mills annually upon a $15,000,000 assessed real estate value, to redeem the total obligation if the tax upon fish was not resorted to.

Viewing the situation from this angle I am of the opinion that the city council would be acting wisely by calling a public meeting in the largest hall in the city and have Mr. Clayton demonstrate his plans, have the city solicitor give the law points that the citizens may get a full knowledge of the pros and cons bearing upon so important a subject before turning it down; that if necessary to petition the government for special legislation covering this matter if the municipal clauses act does not already permit it. If it does permit such steps being taken by the municipality under the sanction of a bylaw passed upon by the people, then I venture to suggest such a bylaw being submitted at the earliest date possible.

I do not in anywise consider this matter dealing with franchises. I fully believe it to be a just means of aiding the development of our greatest natural resources, and of establishing a permanent payroll, the results of which can hardly be estimated in its far-reaching results.

Yours very truly,
DANIEL W. MORRISSEY.

- FACT HUNGER -

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questions—searching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of—for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed facts—that, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
