SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY SEMI-ANNUAL REUNION

At the K. of P. hall on Saturday night the Scandinavian society, "Valhalla," entertained a large number of friends in the form of a successful and enjoyable semi-annual reunion.

A good program was given, including music, songs, recitations etc., and at the close of the program all joined in singing the National Anthem.

Besides the installation of officers for the ensuing term, the main feature of the program was the presentation to the lodge of a prize donated by the Grand Lodge for the proportionate highest increase in membership for the year 1914. The prize, an ivory chairman's gavel, was presented by Br. John Dybbavn, the representative of the Supreme lodge, who expressed the appreciation of the said body for the good work of the local lodge.

After the program dancing, by about sixty couples, and a whist drive were kept up until the small hours, and everybody went home entirely satisfied with the enjoyable occasion.

The local lodge figures now with about a hundred members and is the strongest lodge of the order in British Columbia. Mr. John Dybbavn, of the local lodge, holds the distinction of being the District President for our province as well as the representative of the district to the Supreme Lodge.

Since 1911, until the 17th of this month, he has continually filled the office of secretary of the local lodge. S. Holmquist is secretary and Olaf Hansen, president for the ensuing term. Sam Johnson is the past president.
